KNUTE ROCKNE GETS OFFER TO DIRECT TROJANS

Gloomy Gus to Receive Two Years' Salary In Return For His Resignation

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—While Elmer C. Henderson, football coach of the University of Southern California, declared today he had not resigned, he admitted negotiations had been opened to replace him.

Henderson said it was a fact that a week ago Knute Rockne, coach of Notre Dame university, was offered the mentor job at the Los Angeles university.

He said Warren Bovard, controller of the university, and H. J. Stonier, secretary and treasurer, had conferred with Rockne and asked him to come to Los Angeles at a princely salary.

Henderson's contract has two years to run. It was understood the university planned to pay him the two years' salary and ask for his resignation.

It was reported in the event Henderson is out and Rockne does not want the Los Angeles coaching position, it would be offered to "Slip" Madigan, St. Mary's college, Oakland, mentor. Madigan's team unexpectedly defeated Henderson's outfit last fall.

University's Secretary Makes Statement In North

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—"All news to me." This was the comment here today of H. J. Stonier, secretary of University of Southern California, on the report that Elmer Henderson had resigned as coach of the southern institution and was to be succeeded by Knute Rockne of Notre Dame.

"I am here on private matters," he said, "and did not see Rockne. I know of no negotiations with him outside of those conducted in Los Angeles, with a view to arranging a home game arrangement with Notre Dame."

"I have been out of touch with Graduate Manager Wilson, and therefore, know of no developments regarding Coach Henderson."

Rockne En Route East

Warren Bovard, controller of U. S. C., who was also in San Francisco, did not see Rockne, according to Stonier. Bovard, he said, was here in connection with military matters.

Rockne was en route east today. He did not visit San Francisco, stopping in Oakland only long enough to visit St. Mary's college, now coached by one of his former proteges, Slip Madigan.

NAME HOUGHTON TO ENGLISH POST

Kellogg to Take Hughes' Portfolio In Cabinet, and McCormick to Berlin

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Alanson B. Houghton, now ambassador to Germany, will be transferred to London as successor to Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg, who is soon to return to the United States and become secretary of state, it was learned authoritatively here today.

The usual inquiries as to Mr. Houghton's acceptability have been made to London, and the British government has replied that Houghton is persona grata.

Labor Cabinet Member Davis Not To Resign

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—James J. Davis, secretary of labor, has withdrawn his tentative resignation, submitted some time ago and will remain in the cabinet, it was announced at the White House today.

Simultaneously with this announcement, it was stated that President Coolidge "expected no other cabinet changes."

Skeptical observers, however, recalled that the same announcement was made only a few days before Secretary Hughes resigned and Attorney-General Stone was mentioned for the supreme court.

ASK ECONOMY IN BUDGET MEASURE

State Expenditures Fixed At $103,430,275 for Next Biennial Period

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to The Evening News.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Submission of the biennial budget and his accompanying message was delayed until 4 p. m., yesterday by Governor Richardson.

The governor stated in his message: "The budget herewith presented shows proposed expenditures totaling $103,430,275.10. The estimated revenues for the biennial period, according to figures presented by the state board of equalization, are $104,571,780.19."

This leaves a rough balance of $1,140,000 for the legislature to spend, and already several appropriation bills introduced in the Senate, if passed, would take more than half that sum. The governor's message adds:

"In preparing this budget, every endeavor has been made to (Turn to page 5, col. 5)

Frank Weller Named Judiciary Chairman

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—The personnel of the standing committees of the Assembly, appointed by Speaker Frank Merriam, were announced by him today.

The following are the committee chairmen: Walter H. Duval, Ventura county, agricultural committee; C. C. Spaulding, Santa Clara, banking committee; N. V. Wempe, Lassen, claims committee; Jerome V. Scofield, Los Angeles, commerce and navigation; George C. Cleveland, Santa Cruz, fish and game; Frank W. Mixer, Tulare, irrigation committee; Frank C. Wright, San Luis Obispo, re-appointment; Robert B. McPherson, Vallejo, ways and means; Henry E. Carter, Los Angeles, attaches; Howard W. Davis, Los Angeles, building and loan.

Foreign Policy Same, Coolidge Assures Public

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—President Coolidge took cognizance today of the enormous speculation that has followed in the wake of Secretary of State Hughes' resignation by assuring White House callers that no marked changes in the foreign policies of the administration may be expected after Frank B. Kellogg becomes secretary of state.

On the contrary, it was stated, the president expects the foreign policy of his administration to proceed along the lines already laid down, with only normal expansion and enlargement as new conditions arise.

Houghton is 61 years old and a resident of Corning, N. Y. He represented the 37th New York district in Congress at the time of his selection as America's first post war ambassador to Germany. He is a wealthy manufacturer.

HERRIOT RULE SEEN AT END BY FRENCH

Recognition of Soviets and Vatican Differences Are Pointed as Reasons

By WILLIAM T. ABBOTT
For International News Service.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—The overthrow of the Herriot cabinet during the present session which convened today, was freely predicted by members when they gathered this afternoon in the chamber and corridors.

The specific allegations which members were predicting would be brought against Premier Herriot and others of the cabinet were:

1. Inharmonious relations with the Vatican.

2. Discontent in Alsace because of interference with religious education.

3. Failure of the Franco-German commercial negotiations which closed the German markets to Alsatian exporters.

4. Recognition of the soviet and alleged negligence in suppressing communism in France.

Premier Herriot planned today to make his first public appearance since his illness of more than a month.

Today's session of parliament was formal, for the election of officers and the disposal of routine matters.

Following the cabinet meeting Herriot went to the Chamber of Deputies. He was loudly applauded when he made his appearance.

M. Painleve was re-elected president of the Chamber by a vote of 313 out of 340. The opposition refrained from voting.

BERLIN EXPRESS CRASH KILLS 22

Sixteen Severely Injured, 44 Slightly Hurt as Fog Dims Signals

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—Twenty-two persons were killed, sixteen severely injured and forty-four suffered minor injuries when the Berlin-Cologne express crashed into another train at the Herne station, near Cologne today.

Four cars of the passenger train into which the express crashed were demolished. The express train was not much damaged.

A heavy fog obscured a "stop" signal and the express rushed past it into the other train.

BETTER UNDERSTOOD

"Before the new traffic commission started its duties, the traffic laws covered sixty printed pages. Today they cover eighteen printed pages, and a digest of the city and state traffic laws are presented in an intelligent manner and so as to be plainly understood, in a little four-page pamphlet."

"The traffic regulations should be flexible and adjustable. A condition-covered by one law too late may not be handled in a year or two. The laws should be definite and enforceable. Many policemen in Los Angeles, under the old system of laws, could not determine if an ordinance had been violated."

Favors Uniform Laws

"Uniform traffic laws throughout the entire state, yes, throughout the entire nation, would relieve matters a great deal. We know that it is just as unlawful to hit a man over the head with a club in San Francisco as it is in Glendale, but we do not know if it is unlawful to park thirty minutes or an hour, at an angle or parallel to the curb."

"All large cities in the United States are situated at the crossroads of transportation and travel. For some it is rail transportation, others are waterway centers, some have both. Wherever there is transportation of any kind, there are main traveled arteries, and there you will find traffic problems."

Automobiles Increase

"In Southern California today there are more automobiles in use than were manufactured by all the car makers in 1916. Records show there are more than 5,000,000 car miles traveled daily in Los Angeles, and Glendale gets a large share of this traffic, either (Turn to page 9, col. 3)

Allies In Almost Full Accord On Reparations Problems, Now Belief

PARIS, Jan. 13.—For the first time since German reparations have been under discussion, the allies today were in almost complete accord, it was said in diplomatic circles. The most important development of the allied financial conference, it was emphasized, is that America is now practically an official participant in all reparations problems.

America, in receiving 2 1/2 per cent of the Dawes receipts won a diplomatic and "legal" victory, diplomats freely admitted. It had been predicted that Great Britain would contest strongly American participation on the ground that the United States had not signed the Versailles treaty.

While Belgium would have liked a much larger share than what was allocated, the fact that it had received priorities did not put it in a position to demand more, experts said.

All that remains now to make America's award "official" and to complete the work of the conference will be the adoption of a formal resolution at a meeting of the conference this evening.

Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., agent general for reparations and other commissioners and trustees will take up the report of the financial ministers complete their discussions. Gilbert already is in Paris and he said today that he expected to call a meeting Wednesday or Thursday.

TOO MANY TRAFFIC LAWS, SAYS EXPERT

Glendale Commission and Number of Invited Guests Hear Discussion Of Problems At Luncheon

Glendale's present traffic commission of eight members will be increased to twenty-five, following action taken at the traffic meeting held today noon at the Egyptian Village, following an address by Miller McClintock, traffic consultant of the Los Angeles Traffic commission. The additional seventeen members will be selected by a committee composed of Chief of Police Fraser, C. J. Hatz, president of the Glendale Merchants' association; D. H. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, and M. Walters, chairman of the present traffic commission. The motion to maintain and increase the commission was made by James Rhoades, and the personnel of the committee to select additional seventeen members was included in a motion by Herman Nelson.

The trouble with traffic regulation enforcement in many cities is a case of too many laws, Miller McClintock, consultant of the Los Angeles traffic commission, told city officials, members of the Glendale Traffic commission and a group of representative business men at a meeting held today noon under the auspices of the Glendale Traffic commission at the Egyptian Village.

Mr. McClintock, who is now an instructor in political science at University of California, Southern Branch, a graduate of Stanford University and Harvard, where he held a teacher fellowship, has spent a number of years studying traffic conditions and problems in various cities of the United States.

Regarding traffic laws, he said: "My experience has been that too many cities have too many traffic laws. These laws are always too complicated. Take Los Angeles, for example."

Professional Boxing May Be Barred In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—Professional boxing in Los Angeles may be barred as a result of an opinion handed down here today by City Attorney Jesse Stephens.

Stephens held the new state law permitting ten and twelve round professional bouts does not apply in this city, which has ordinances in conflict.

EXPOSURE KILLS MOUNTAIN HIKER

WOMAN HEAD OF COMMERCE BOARD IN DENVER DIES IN SNOW STORM

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 13.—Left helpless on Long's peak by a companion who had set out to secure aid, Miss Agnes W. Vaile, secretary of the Denver Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Colorado Mountain club, died of exposure and injuries she received in a fall while climbing the mountain.

A searching party today was securing the mountains for Herbert Sortland, an employee of Long's Peak Inn, who is lost in the mountains and it is feared he may be unable to survive the terrific storm now raging on the peak.

Miss Vaile had climbed the peak late Sunday and encountered the storm, became exhausted in her efforts to reach safety.

Man Found Burned and Bound to Tree In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—Tied to a tree with a heavy rope, Frank Victor, a truck driver, was found near here today by a train crew. The man's hands, feet and hips were badly burned and he claimed to have been kidnapped and tortured. Police said Victor may have attempted suicide, as a note, requesting his wife be notified of his death, was found in his pockets.

FIRE LOSS $250,000

SWORDFISH, S. D., Jan. 13.—Fire of undetermined origin swept the main building of the state normal school at 1 o'clock this morning causing a loss estimated at $250,000.

POLICEMAN JAILED

SALINAS, Cal., Jan. 13.—Ralph W. Smith, 41, declared by himself to be a San Francisco policeman, and whose address was given as Oakland, was sentenced today to serve 100 days in the county jail here charged with having been found with liquor illegally in his possession.

$600,000,000 VICTORY FOR UNCLE SAM

So State Department Views War Claims Award But Senate Suspicious

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—On the heels of the Kellogg-Churchill agreement in Paris, whereby the United States is to get 2 1/2 per cent of the Dawes plan annuities in satisfaction of American war claims, there arose today a marked division of opinion as to whether the achievement at Paris represents a victory or a defeat for American diplomacy.

While it is true that the American representatives forced the allied powers to concede the justice of American claims and compelled them to grant the right of equal participation in the German payments, the net result of such an agreement, it was pointed out in senatorial quarters today, is that for the first time since the war the United States was made a direct party to the coalition of powers seeking to compel Germany to pay.

The United States now has a direct stake in the reparations controversy, amounting to 2 1/2 per cent, or some $600,000,000. And in this respect the American position now is no different from the position of Great Britain, France, Belgium and Italy.

In this connection, the question was raised today in Senate circles:

"Suppose Germany defaults in her payments now, and the allies agree to impose punitive measures such as further occupation of German territory—will the United States become an active participant in disciplining Germany?"

The United States has always opposed the application of drastic "sanctions" on Germany, such as the French occupation of the Ruhr.

While the state department is disposed to regard the Paris agreement as a decisive diplomatic "victory," no such opinion prevails in some Senate circles.

The Dawes plan has always been viewed with a certain amount of suspicion at the capitol anyway.

GOVERNMENT OPERATION PLAN IS FAVORED

Sale to Private Interests Meets With Opposition In Upper House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Senate this afternoon turned its face against the sale of the great Muscle Shoals nitrate and power plants to private interests.

Approving the plan of Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, the Senate voted for government operation of the Alabama properties under the direction of a federal corporation for the manufacture of nitrates and fertilizer.

The vote was 40 to 39, the government ownership element in the Senate winning by a margin of one vote over those favored selling Muscle Shoals.

Victory for Norris was accomplished when he offered his plan as a substitute for the Jones commission plan, previously approved by the Senate. Norris' plan was defeated a few days ago by a vote of 48 to 37 when the Senate adopted the Underwood plan for disposition of the property.

Proposes Corporation

Norris proposes to establish a federal chemical corporation to develop power at Muscle Shoals and to carry on the manufacture of nitrates for sale to farmers.

Senator Underwood, Alabama, encouraged by the way the Senate reversed itself on the Norris plan, then re-offered his plan as a substitute for that of Senator Norris. Minor changes were made to permit this procedure.

The Underwood plan provides for government operation of the properties should they not be sold to private interests before July 1, next. No provisions for sale are carried in the Norris plan.

The Senate had previously today substituted the Jones Muscle Shoals bill for the Underwood plan.

The Jones bill would appoint a special commission of three members to make a thorough study of the Muscle Shoals question and report back to Congress next December definite recommendations for disposing of the $150,000,000 power and nitrate plant.

Break Party Lines

Administration senators who previously voted to substitute the Underwood bill for the Norris government ownership plan, deserted the Underwood ranks and switched to the Jones amendment. The vote was 46 to 33.

Party lines were broken on the vote, twenty-nine Republicans, including many administration senators, joining with one farmer-laborer and sixteen Democrats in voting for the Jones substitute. The Underwood bill received the votes of sixteen Republicans, including the president's spokesmen and seventeen Democrats.

First $2 Wheat In Four Years Now In Market

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 13.—Two dollar wheat—the highest price paid in peace times for many years, made its appearance on the Kansas City market today. The grade was choice red. A carload was sold. This is the first $2 wheat on the Kansas City market since January, 1921. The general market has not touched $2 so far.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—May wheat hit a new high level here today within thirty minutes after the market opened, when it went to $1.86 1/2 on May crop. July offerings also went to a new high at $1.58 1/2. This is the highest price paid for the grain in Chicago since the peak in 1921.

The noon quotation on May wheat was $1.88, a boost of 1 1/2 over the new high of $1.86 1/2, which the grain hit half an hour after the opening this morning.

BIG DEMAND FOR 'CASH' BOOSTER

$4,992,000,000 Placed In Circulation Since Last August

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Heavy demand for "cold cash" increased money circulation $330,000,000 between August and January bringing the total now in the hands of the public to approximately $4,992,000,000, the treasury announced today.

"The larger demand for currency has been in response, in addition to seasonal influences, to an increase in payroll requirements of many establishments," the federal reserve board declared.

"The growth of the volume of money in circulation has been accompanied by a continuation in demand for deposits of banks. In 1924 deposits accumulated but were relatively inactive."

Governor Fills Two Big Jobs on State Payroll

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—Governor Friend W. Richardson today announced the appointment of Charles R. Detrick, chief of the state building and loan commission, as state insurance commissioner, and the selection of A. E. Falch, Los Gatos, publisher, to succeed Detrick. The insurance commissioner's position was vacated by George D. Squires, who was elevated to the state railroad commission.

RAILROAD MERGERS DECLARED ILLEGAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The great railroad mergers being carried out by the Van Sweringen brothers are "illegal," under a strict interpretation of the Esch-Cummings transportation act, Ben B. Cain, counsel for the American Short Line Railroad association, charged today before the Senate interstate commerce committee.

SECRETARY HUGHES RETURNS TO CAPITAL

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 13.—Suddenly abandoning plans to go on a hunting trip in Georgia, Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes hurriedly departed for Washington at noon today. Hughes' sudden decision to return to the capital broke up a two-day meeting of the executive committee of the American Bar association, of which he is president. He gave no explanation of his sudden departure.

STORM WARNINGS FOR NORTHERN COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Storm warnings were ordered up today by the weather bureau from Cape Mendocino north as a result of a disturbance of considerable intensity which has made its appearance off the north coast and will move southeastward, attended by gales on the north coast and a general precipitation over Washington, Oregon and all of California except in the southern part of the state in the next thirty-six hours. Snow will fall, the weather bureau predicted, in Washington and Oregon and in Idaho and Nevada. Frosts were general in interior California this morning.

VARIETY SHOW TO FEATURE RADIO ACT

Students Promise Hits in Annual Affair at High School

By LEE OSBORNE
Written for The Evening News.
One of the feature acts in the annual variety show, to be held Thursday and Friday nights at the Broadway High auditorium will be the Harvard High stunt. This act is a take off, an ordinary, every-day occurrence now that radio is popular and with the talent now lined up, should prove one of the big hits of the show. The act opens with half of the stage set as an ordinary home. The other half is the KJH broadcasting station and the program put on includes several separate acts.

Parodies on news items are given and jokes featured. The rest of the program includes the Harvard Saxophone trio, a violin trio and a girls' duet. The saxophone trio have some snappy selections arranged which are sure to go over big with the audience. The violin trio are not to be outdone, however, and they promise their act is to be just as good. The singing then comes on after which a take-off on a lecture on astronomy is given.

Students in these acts have been working hard under the direction of Mrs. Rogers, and this act is sure to be one of the hits. Following is the cast in its order of appearance:

FIRST SEAL CATCH

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 13.—Twenty-three seals, the first caught this season, have been brought to Santa Barbara by Captain Ira Eaton on the Sea Wolf. The seals, which were caught near Santa Cruz island, are sold to museums and circuses throughout the world.

APRICOT MEN WIN

VENTURA, Jan. 13.—The California Prune & Apricot Growers' association has lost its first brush with withdrawing growers. Judge Ellis of the superior court has held that temporary injunctions against the growers forbidding them to sell to any other company or individual be dismissed. They are now free to sell to independent concerns.

SISTERS REUNITED

GOLETA, Jan. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Paulin have returned from Los Angeles, after an interesting visit with Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Billing and daughter Margaret. It was the first time Mrs. Paulin and Mrs. Billing, who are sisters, had seen each other in thirty-five years. Left orphans and adopted by different families, they lost track of each other until they were recently reunited.

REVIVE HORSE BREEDING

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 13.—Riverside is about to become famous as one of the few places in the United States where thoroughbred Arabian horses are bred, and, according to plans of Chauncey Clark, Hollywood millionaire horse fancier, he expects to produce a line of thoroughbred Arabian polo ponies unequalled on the North American continent. Clark for some time has owned extensive date gardens in the Coachella valley near Point Happy, about twelve miles east of Palm Springs, and it is here that he has started his project.

RESERVES GET RANGE

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 13.—San Bernardino and Riverside county members of the United States Officers' Reserve corps are expected to become associated with the permanent organization formed at a recent meeting at Riverside, and which has obtained permission from the government for the use of March field as a weekly meeting place where target practice can be held.

EXPLORERS GIVE REPORT

CLAREMONT, Jan. 13.—The exploring expedition consisting of professors and students of Pomona college has just returned from Lower California, reporting that the peninsula through which they traveled to San Quentin, 150 miles south of Ensenada, is of sufficient scientific interest to warrant a more detailed examination next summer.

MUST ELIMINATE SOOT

ONTARIO, Jan. 13.—Unanimously agreed that the oily soot which attends present-day orchard heating methods must be abolished if the community is to prosper, directors of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce and citrus growers and packers of this district have voted to appoint a com-

EXPECT ACTION ON ATWATER PROTEST

Petition Charging Unjust Street Car Fare is Sent to San Francisco; Harshman Building is Sold

A protest of asserted unjust street car fares between downtown Los Angeles and the Atwater district, which was filed with the State Railroad commission, following a recent meeting of the Atwater Improvement association, has been taken up with the head office of the commission at San Francisco and will be acted upon shortly.

This information was contained in a communication to President Arthur M. Gillman of the Improvement association, received in Atwater yesterday. It bore the signature of W. R. Williams, examiner in charge at Los Angeles.

In the protest filed against the present rates charged by the Pacific Electric Co., it is alleged that unfair and unjust treatment has been accorded the Atwater patrons, and that they have been discriminated against in the matter of street car fares. In support of these contentions it is pointed out in the petition that other sections of Los Angeles city, although farther removed from the central business district, have lower rates than those charged to Atwater, Glenhurst and Richardson stations.

The document urges that Atwater, which is closer in than Hollywood, be given at least fares corresponding to those charged on the Hollywood line. The petition declares the present high fare to be the greatest obstacle in the way of the further development of the district.

Building Is Bought

The Harshman building, northwest corner of Edenhurst avenue and Glendale boulevard, Atwater, has been sold to J. V. Owens, real estate operator, according to an announcement made today. The building, a one-story structure, has been virtually unoccupied during the past number of months. Elmer E. Harshman was the former owner.

Alteration of the business block was commenced today under the direction of Mr. Owens. The building will be completely remodeled and painted throughout, he stated. Mr. Owens will occupy the corner store room in the future with his real estate office. He hopes to lease the adjoining portion, which will be divided into two rooms for a grocery and market.

WAR!

A Series of Seven Articles on War: With a local-civic objective by "Mr. A. Studios Veteran."

Article Five

Yesterday, with pride, attention to the dozen service organizations of Glendale was directed. Read the list over again and see if you cannot find it in your heart to help in the good work by aligning yourself with them if you are eligible.

Still another way you can help is by directing a postal card to any one of the secretaries giving the names and addresses of any friends not now members whom you know are eligible, so that they may be induced to help both themselves and the societies in the good work.

Doubtless the older societies have more nearly completed their "possible list" than the newer and less experienced organizations.

It has come to the attention of "Mr. A. Studios Veteran" that the American Legion Post No. 127 and its capable auxiliary are embarking on a brief campaign to increase their membership at the present time and he is especially pleased to refer specifically to these organizations in the series of Articles on War with the hope that readers may also be interested and help.

If the theory holds that a watch to be repaired should be sent to the watch maker, a suit to the tailor; legal matters to a lawyer, it would seem that any effort made by the intelligent citizen to build up an organization calculated by service and experience in protection of the nation to be competent, would be logical and a good civic investment. Especially is this true when that organization is, as is especially pledged to do its best for the general welfare.

No less does it seem correct to believe that any man or woman who saw service and should seek to do his or her part in the patriotic work, help maintain the traditions and institutions which we all love but not always do all we can to foster.

In numbers there is strength—in civic work as well as in war. The work now being done by the Legion is war in a sense, war on the spirit of Bolshevism, ignorance, crime, apathy in citizenship and on poverty and distress. For anyone who has a desire to take an active part in the numerous charities and efforts of the Legion or auxiliary, there is a field and welcome. Each member is a "pawn" in the great game with every opportunity to become a "king" in his chosen line. Working as a team there is hardly a limit to the amount of good which can be accomplished.

It is a very difficult matter either for the Legion or the Auxiliary to locate and interview every service man and members of his family. The spirit is willing and no effort will be spared to see personally every one whose mittee of five which will make tests of various types of orchard heaters, looking to this end and to report back their findings to a later and larger meeting.

GIRLS' CLUB IN MEETING AT ST. MARK'S

Diocesan Secretary Talks to Local Society; Program Is Enjoyed

Miss Edith Benton, of Los Angeles, diocesan secretary of the Girls' Friendly society was the guest of honor last night at the meeting of the society of St. Mark's Episcopal church in the Guild hall. Dinner was served by Mrs. P. E. Corey and Mrs. Annette Powers. Miss Benton talked on the diocesan convention of the Girls' Friendly society to be held at St. Paul's cathedral, Los Angeles, on January 30.

The business meeting of convention will be held in the afternoon. Mrs. Philip K. Kemp, branch president and Miss Grace Crampton, delegate will attend the sessions. At 6:30 o'clock a dinner will be served and a program given. The educational meeting of the society was observed last night with an educational program. Miss Louise Ayala took on current events. Miss Gracie Manuel gave a sketch of the life of Robert Browning as did Miss Freda Gass. Poetry written by Browning also was read.

Miss Leola Martin, courtesy chairman, gave a report of activities during the past year as did also Miss Muriel Gambrell, secretary during the past year. Miss Georgina Campbell, newly elected president of the society directed the meeting and read a paper on the acceptance of her office and told of plans for the coming year's work. Miss Cynthia Perry was appointed program chairman to serve two months. Plans were made for the society to go as an organization on the first Sunday of each month at 7:30 o'clock for corporate communion.

P-T-A.

Dr. Gerhard Kaemmerling, city health officer, and Mrs. Clark, school nurse, will have charge of the program Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the meeting of the Acacia Parent-Teacher association. The business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. R. N. Stryker, president of the association. A question box in which members will place health questions will provide subjects to be discussed by Dr. Kaemmerling and Mrs. Clark. The Kindergarten club of the Parent-Teacher association will give a benefit "Mother Goose" play at the Glendale intermediate school on Friday night, January 30, at 7:30 o'clock. Pupils of the kindergarten will take part in the play, which will be a pantomime. Members of the Kindergarten club are working on the costumes which they will wear and the children are enthusiastic with their work. A huge shoe is being made and the characters will emerge from the shoe for the entertainment.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, is to talk on the coming school bond election Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Broadway Parent-Teacher association. The meeting will be at 2 o'clock in the school auditorium. In addition to Mr. White's talk there will be a program on thrift and musical entertainment. Mrs. Acton, courtesy chairman, will have charge of serving tea from 2:30 to 3 o'clock, preceding the meeting. Executive committee members are to meet at 1 o'clock. This meeting is for all officers and room mothers.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Jan. 13.—Several subjects important to this community are scheduled for discussion and action at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tonight. Among these subjects are plans for establishing a branch of the county health department in Tujunga for the purpose of augmenting the supervision given tuberculosis cases; reports of the prize winning contest in the Pasadena tournament on New Year's day; location of a public dump for refuse disposal; revision of the present zoning ordinance affecting certain classes of business houses and institutions and street improvement work for this year.

Backers of the plan to establish a health clinic within the county would not increase the number of patients in Tujunga, but would increase the safety of non-tuberculars by giving proper supervision over the active cases and providing proper sanitary precautions, at the same time educating the patients in the proper methods of protecting others from contagion. Much carelessness has been displayed by some of the patients in exposing others to infection and many residents have expressed indignation over this danger to the health of themselves and their families. The result of this carelessness has been a widespread desire among residents to abate the menace.

Miles Glenn, 370 Benish Court, was host Friday night at a radio party given to dedicate the installation and perfection of his new receiving set. Fay Laurant, Frank Austgen and Doc Fay were the guests and enjoyed refreshments, smokes and special request music.

Numbers granted for the occasion by station KFL. One of the request numbers granted was "Humoresque," played on the

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Jan. 13.—Petitions will soon be circulated for ornamental street lights on the more important local thoroughfares, it is reported by H. G. Warren, chairman of the street lighting committee, Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce. This committee will submit its recommendations to the C. of C. directors for approval within the next few days. Mr. Warren states, if approval is received, circulation of petitions will be the next step toward more adequate street lights for the section. Others on the committee with Mr. Warren are A. E. Bennett, Walter Dorance, Dr. W. D. Drake, Sidney Smith, and A. L. McCamman.

Business licenses are now due and payable at the City Hall, Eagle Rock between the hours of 8 and 12 o'clock daily, it is announced. Persons who pay such licenses are requested to come prepared to make a statement of their gross receipts for the past year, this being necessary in order to determine the rating of the license.

Property owners in favor of a system of setback lines on Eagle Rock streets are asked to sign a petition now being circulated through the local Chamber of Commerce. The petition is addressed to the Los Angeles Planning commission, states Mrs. A. E. Reiter, C. of C. secretary.

Officers Brown and Robinson of the Eagle Rock police division recently recovered an automobile which had been stolen from J. A. Drew, 6550 Elder street. The machine was found at Avenue 47.

G. M. Daniels has exchanged his Glendale place with J. M. Cates for a duplex on Ellenwood drive, January 16, at the High school gymnasium. Those back of the movement are: Rev. Stevenson and W. E. Smith, Presbyterian church; W. H. Klein, E. M. Nelson and Rev. G. Streit, Evangelical church; Don Ruff and Dr. E. C. Zeiss, Methodist church.

Installation of the recently elected officers of the Burbank post-American Legion, will take place the night of January 22, when there will be an inter-post council and a banquet. The 1925 officers are: M. O. Sparrow, commander; R. E. Farnsworth, first vice-commander; J. A. Chappel, second vice-commander; Ted Covel, adjutant; W. H. Adams, historian; J. Switzer, chaplain; W. Merrill, sergeant-at-arms. The charter night of the Optimist club will be January 27, held at the Benmar Hills garden hall, and it is said that it will be the occasion of exceptional sociability. Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Hopkins of Grand Rapids, Michigan, have arrived in Southern California, making the trip from Michigan by automobile. They are making their home on Providence avenue. Mrs. Mary I. Sone of 325 Providence avenue had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Garner and grandchild of Indiana, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garner of Taft.

Mrs. E. L. Raff, recently from Thomas, Oklahoma, is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. L. F. Ennen of 509 Cedar avenue.

Miss Alice Longwell, who has been living at the Ramsey apartments, has gone to San Francisco to make her home.

Annual Meeting of Corporation Called

The Italian tea room of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse will be the scene tonight of the annual dinner of stockholders in the H. S. McCormack & Associates, Inc. Following the dinner the meeting will be held, with detailed reports of the year just closed.

Living is a little cheaper, but it isn't a darned bit more pleasant.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Jan. 13.—An inter-church basketball league is in process of organization, and practice games will start Friday night, January 16, at the High school gymnasium. ## PERSONNEL OF LEGISLATURE IS VARIED

Lawyers, Printers, Farmers
And Others Listed In State Assembly

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
Special to The Evening News.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 12.—
Choosing committees in the Assembly of the California Legislature was more or less a complicated matter with Frank F. Merriam, speaker, and administration leader.

Arthur Ohnibus made a roster of the members, listing their vocations and twenty-eight of the eighty assemblymen are lawyers. An even 35 per cent of the lawmakers are lawyers in the lower House and the percentage is probably nearer 45 per cent in the Senate.

There are four printer-publishers in the Assembly and they are led only by the farmers. But one "taxpayer," bachelor, George Cleveland, is listed. The women legislators include one lawyer, one law clerk, one teacher of expression and two are housewives. That gives you an idea of the personnel.

Bachelors Priming
With this inequality of professions represented, Speaker Merriam and Lieutenant Governor C. C. Young, president of the Senate.

Members Will Discuss Plans for Activities

Plans for late winter and spring activities will be made Thursday at the luncheon meeting of the Women's Athletic club at the Kopper Kettle tea room, 328 North Brand boulevard. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, followed by the business hour in charge of Mrs. J. H. Toal, club president. Reservations for the luncheon can be made until Wednesday night with Mrs. J. J. Campbell, Glendale 26-J.

The gymnasium class met last night at Harvard High school, and other activities are being carried out, according to the regular weekly program. Mrs. George Smith, chairman of swimming, is organizing a new class, to meet February 13 at the Y. W. C. A. in Pasadena. Mrs. Virginia Farr, chairman of hiking, has a hike planned for the end of the week and asks that all members interested call her at Glendale 2975-J.

Ku Klux Klan Dance To Be Held Saturday

Glendale Ku Klux Klan, Provisional No. 1, gave their first "Hard Times" dance Saturday, in the Odd Fellows hall. Prizes were given for the best waltz and for the best dancing. The next dance will be a "Balloons" dance, January 24. Special prizes will again be given.

Planning Commission Meeting Is Postponed

The City Planning commission did not meet last night, for want of a quorum. The next meeting will be held Monday night, January 19, at the City Hall, states P. J. Hayselden, secretary. Routine business will be taken up.

LABEL LEAGUE TO MEET THURSDAY

Install Officers for 1925
At 108 North Brand;
Mrs. Hail Is Head

Installation of newly elected officers of the Women's Union Label league will take place Thursday night at 8 o'clock at a meeting to be held in the hall at 108 North Brand boulevard. The ceremonies will be conducted by the Pasadena Label league.

Officers to be installed are: Mrs. J. D. Hail, president; Mrs. H. H. Black, vice-president; Mrs. O. G. Thompson, corresponding and recording secretary; Mrs. A. D. Hurd, treasurer; Mrs. J. L. Demmell, financial secretary; Mrs. C. G. Hammer, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. L. Wilson, doorkeeper; Mrs. G. L. Unckles, trustee. Delegates to the meetings of the Central Labor Council are Mrs. J. D. Hail and Mrs. O. G. Thompson. Mrs. J. K. Sands is alternate.

Gives Entertainment
The entertainment given under the auspices of the Women's Union Label league Saturday night at 108 North Brand boulevard proved successful. Pupils of Mrs. Bertha Iredale of 1108 East Broadway provided entertainment and dancing was also enjoyed. A supper was served at which places were arranged to serve 200 people. Mrs. J. D. Hail, president of the league, Mrs. O. G. Thompson and Mrs. H. H. Black had charge of the affair. The sum of $60 was cleared.

A delegation from the Glendale Women's Label league attended the installation ceremonies held last night at Pasadena when officers of the Pasadena league were installed.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

A prototype of Will Rogers appearing at a Sacramento theatre said:

"I called on the Mayor today. He asked me what I was doing, and I replied, 'I'm trying to earn an honest living.' Then he says, 'Go to it, young man, you won't have competition.'"

It is a nice way of saying that Sacramento, to a large extent lives off of its back country, not to mention the few hundred people employed by the state and a few hundred more employed by the Southern Pacific railroad.

The capital city is quite centrally located. It is a city with a past, present and future. But it lives mostly in the past, fails to recognize its present improvements and doesn't give a rap about the future, unless you should be so fortunate as to talk with the chamber of commerce secretary who is trying his best to stop the ingrowing spirit of the community. He didn't tell the writer that. It is self-evident, as are the new department store buildings, new theatre, new hotel and soon a new Elks' club, as well as new state buildings.

Rather strange, but one of the best cafes in the city boasts of having been "open since 1849 night and day." That is a span of seventy-five years, showing that reputation for good food does last through several generations.

But how about the other restaurants which have opened since '49, and other business establishments? They are good, bad and worst of all, indifferent. Sacramento is being settled by a foreign population which has the old world philosophies of life, with the exception of the energetic Japanese.

And if California's capital city is an effective sample of the melting pot, Congress cannot be too far off in passing immigration laws. It is almost impossible to Americanize the Slav, although he may speak more English than the German or Italian. And more unfortunate for the Slav, he is oftentimes victimized by employers and fellow countrymen.

The Slav in business is not enterprising, as a rule; he is less than ordinary; he does not take an interest in civic affairs; he cares little for family life, although it is his nature to be friendly and a family man, if left to follow his own devices.

That's where America doesn't Americanize this class. It does not let the Slav follow his own mode of living; he objects to the right of women; he disapproves the invasion of his home by prohibition enforcement officers; and he degenerates into a more or less servile, resentful, useless object of humanity.

This state has banned oriental landholders while the United States has stopped immigration of an undesirable race. Unless the Slav is to be assimilated, he, too, should be stopped at the gate. We have enough! To which employers of cheap labor will not subscribe, perhaps.

It seems that the higher class of citizenship is prone to remain in its native lands. Yet what wonderful opportunities America still has for native sons and daughters as well as adopted citizens.

If we only could know what the future holds in store.

Tuesday Club Concert Plans Are Completed

Gregg, The Glendale Evening News, Glendale Music Co., Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Paul A. Hoffman, V. M. Hollister, R. L. Kent, Norris M. Knaus, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMullin, Roberts & Echols, L. G. G. Tanager, H. H. Hall, school, John Robert White, J. J. Ray Bentley and Mrs. Florence Parker.

Souvenirs for Radio Fans Hearing Program

In order to assure added interest in the forthcoming Glendale radio program over KFI, on the night of January 19, Bert P. Woodward, speaker of the occasion, will announce over the ether waves that every listener-in who writes to the Chamber of Commerce, stating he heard Glendale on the air, will be mailed a California souvenir emblem of Glendale. Any radio fan outside of this city, whether in California or any other station, is eligible to receive a souvenir.

Rehearsal of Oratorio Music Branch Tonight

Rehearsal of the Oratorio department of the Glendale Music club, will be held at 7:45 o'clock tonight at Harvard High school. John Smallman will direct work in folk songs. An invitation is extended to Glendale song lovers to join this department. Application for membership can be made to Mrs. Roberta T. Young.

LAWMAKERS NOW SET FOR ACTION

Budget Fixed, Committees Named; Governor Asks Further Savings

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—The Legislature was expected to get down to business today. With the naming of the standing committees today the last of the organization preliminaries were out of the way.

The lawmakers had before them today Governor Richardson's second biennial budget, calling for expenditures of $103,430,275.10 during the next two years out of an estimated state income of $104,571,780.19. The budget, if strictly adhered to, and no other outside appropriations are made and approved, will leave a surplus of $1,141,505.09.

The budget is approximately $24,000,000 greater than the $79,000,000 two years ago. The appropriations are larger, the board of control explained, due to the great increase in fixed charges, unusual expenditure and the state growth during that period.

Further Savings
Governor Richardson called upon the Legislature to make further savings, if possible, and said the state must live within its income.

The budget contained two divisions, one for the general items and the other for items relating to the so-called self-supporting institutions which derive their income from fees or other sources.

The state gasoline tax of $26,000,000 was not included in the budget, as it is set aside for road maintenance.

Emerson Pupils Give First Winter Recital

The Emerson School of Self-Expression held the first recital of the winter term last night in the studio of the school, 732 South Glendale avenue. An exceptionally good program was given and reflected great credit upon the school. Thomas Sawyer was impresario. Those taking part in the program were: Carter Circle, Vera Mercer, Dorothy Ellen Cleghorn, Frances Harris, Berenice Maas, Lucille Howe, Winifred Melzer, Martha Lee Phillips, Charles Sawhill, Evelyn Peables, Marjorie Osborn, Howard Blake, Thomas Sawyer, Margery Ashton, Robert Rhodes, Merry Carol Smith, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. G. E. Murphy, Dr. M. H. Hawman, Mr. Graves, Miss Long and Mrs. Comfort.

Local Manufacturers To Meet at Burbank

All manufacturers of Glendale have been issued an invitation to attend a special meeting of the manufacturers' group of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce, to be held at the Santa Rosa hotel in that city on January 21. Plans for a joint association of Glendale and Burbank manufacturers will be laid at that time as outlined by Secretary J. W. Charleville of the Burbank chamber several weeks ago.

The first proposal for a joint association was made by Secretary Charleville before directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. The directors indicated their approval of such a move at that time and it was suggested that a joint preliminary meeting be held. Director George B. Ayers of the Glendale chamber, a well-known local manufacturer, will officially represent the Glendale chamber at the meeting January 21.

Release Pasadena Man On Bail After Arrest

T. W. Miser of Pasadena was released this morning on $300 cash bail, following his arrest early this morning at San Fernando and Los Feliz roads. Fourth and a pint of liquor in his possession. He will appear before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police department at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, January 16. Sam Bragg of Los Angeles, arrested New Year's eve at the Glendale Tavern, charged with possession of liquor, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Lowe and was released on payment of $50 fine.

Judge Lowe Confined To Home by Illness

Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court, whose home is at 310 Patterson avenue, is confined to his bed with a severe cold. He was taken ill yesterday noon and was obliged to go home, postponing several cases set for the afternoon session of his court.

STATE SOCIETIES

Michigan society, Friday night, January 16, Ebell clubhouse, 1119 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles.

Canadian tourists' reunion, Saturday, February 7, Exposition park, Los Angeles.

TAX RULING FOR HUSBANDS, WIVES

Method of Computing Sum For Divorced Couples, Newlyweds Given

A far-reaching income tax ruling affecting husbands and wives who lived together for only a portion of the taxable year 1924, was received from Washington today by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

Hundreds of persons who were married during 1924, or who separated, will be affected by the decision. Under the ruling a husband and wife who lived together for a period less than the entire taxable year, must make a return if their aggregate gross income for the taxable year was $5000 or more, or their aggregate net income was equal to or in excess of the personal exemption allowed them by the new revenue act.

Explains Method
Where the income of each is included in a single joint return, the tax will be computed on the aggregate income and all deductions and credits to which either is entitled will be taken from such aggregate income. The husband must include in his return all income derived from services rendered by the wife and from sale of products from her labor if she does not file a separate return or join with him in a return setting forth her income separately.

For example: John Smith married on June 30, 1924, and was living with his wife on December 31. Their joint net income was $2410. Will they have to file? Under the law they were single persons for the first six months of 1924 and each is entitled to the annual personal exemption of $1000. For six months this would be 500 each. For the last six months the married exemption of 2500 applies, or 1250 for the six months, giving them aggregate personal credits of $2250. Under the new ruling they must file a return if their net income was $2250 or more, or their gross income was $5000 or more.

Juvenile Auxiliary to See 'Dream Pictures'

Branson De Cou's "Dream Pictures" will be shown to members of the juvenile auxiliary of Glendale Music club, Saturday afternoon, at the Van Grove music salon on North Brand boulevard. The children will hold a business meeting before the entertainment.

Bible Class Elects A. S. Wade President

Members of the Berean Bible class of La Cresenta Community church, have elected as officers: A. S. Wade, president; Frank Parks, vice-president; Alma Burt, treasurer; S. B. Miles, secretary.

Everybody agrees government should use drastic measures, but not all agree as to whom they should be used on.

Glendale Delegation To Council Meeting

Miss Eva Daniels, publicity chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Mrs. Arthur Franklin publicity chairman of the Parliamentary Law club of Glendale, and Katherine V. Sinks, club editor of The Glendale Evening News, will be included in the Glendale delegation of club women in attendance at the presidents' council of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, Tuesday, January 20, at the Hollywood Woman's club. "Press and Publicity" will be the general theme of the council, opening at 9:50 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Features of special interest to press women and publicity chairmen will be the press luncheon at noon, and the afternoon press program in charge of Mrs. Lucille Stephenson, district chairman of circulation, and Mrs. Ethelbert R. Maule, district-chairman of press and publicity.

Free Opening Dance On Wednesday Night

A big free opening dance is scheduled for Wednesday night at Odd Fellows' hall, new management and new music, with a grand good time promised everyone who wants to come. Mr. Vanderweiden, the new manager, has a record for properly-conducted dances. For some time he has been sponsoring dances at the Santa Anita clubhouse in Arcadia each Wednesday and Saturday nights. Johnson's orchestra, which has been heard several times at a local theatre, will furnish the music. This organization of six musicians is looked upon as being able to give dancing patrons just what they want. The new manager has about completed arrangements for the lease of the Odd Fellows' hall for the entire season.

Music Club Artists to Be Miss Hopner's Guests

Miss Gladys Hopner of 343 North Central avenue will be hostess Friday night at the meeting of the Artists' department of the Glendale Music club. A program of Scandinavian music will be given at 8 o'clock. Artists appearing will be Ingrid Arneson, soprano; Phillip Tronitz, Norwegian pianist; the Glendale trio, Gertrude Champlain Erb, pianist, Julius Krantz, violinist, and J. Arthur Myers, cello. Mrs. Frankie Webb will read a paper on music of Scandinavia. All members of the music club are invited.

Studebaker Leads Car Sales of Better Make

Studebaker cars again lead in sales in Glendale excepting Ford and Chevrolet, according to figures given out by Don Packer, of Packer Motor Co., 245 South Brand boulevard, Glendale Studebaker distributors. The recapitulation of figures were made by the Automobile Publishing Co., Los Angeles, and give the sales for 1924 as follows: First car, Ford; second, Chevrolet; third, Studebaker, 150 cars sold; fourth, 123 cars; fifth, 115; sixth, 49.

Mr. Welch reported that he was driving south on Verdugo road, had crossed the intersection and was four feet beyond the car tracks when the two cars came together. His machine was turned around with the impact. His view was obstructed by three cars parked at the corner, he reported.

Mr. Bonge said he was driving not over seventeen miles an hour. Mr. Welch said he was driving between twelve and fifteen miles an hour.

12 PERSONS IN AUTO WRECK ESCAPE

Witnesses to Verdugo Road Crash Describe Safety To 'Miracle'

Twelve people were injured yesterday afternoon in one of the most spectacular automobile accidents in city annals. The accident occurred at the intersection of Wilson avenue and Verdugo road. One car, driven by Floyd C. Bonge of 447 North Avenue 56, Highland Park, Los Angeles, and containing eleven persons, was wrecked, overturning several times, according to witnesses. The other machine, a runabout driven by Guy C. Welch of 2678 Carlton avenue, Los Angeles, was only scratched and the driver, its only occupant, escaped uninjured. That there were no fatalities is considered almost a miracle.

Immediately following the accident the Glendale police department was notified and a Jewel City ambulance was dispatched to the scene. Sergeant C. P. Blake investigated. The following were taken to the Glendale hospital: Mrs. S. J. Madock, 802 Fremont street, South Pasadena; Mrs. F. R. Piedlon, Miss Gladys Piedlon, 930 Palm avenue, South Pasadena; Mrs. J. F. Fleming, and Miss Fleming, 333 1/2 South Pasadena avenue, Los Angeles; and Floyd C. Bonge, driver of the larger car. The following were taken to the Glendale Research hospital: Mrs. D. S. Richard and baby, 922 Adeline avenue, South Pasadena. The others were able to go home.

Woman Victim
The Glendale hospital reports this morning that of those received there, Mrs. Madock alone sustained injuries that may prove serious. She sustained deep gashes on the head, lacerations of the face and legs, and possible internal injuries. The Glendale Research hospital reported today that Mrs. Richard and her baby were treated for minor scratches and bruises, and were able to go home.

Mr. Bonge, said to be a real estate agent, is understood to have been conducting a party to look over some property in the vicinity of Glendale. According to his report on file at Glendale police headquarters today he was driving east on Wilson avenue and had nearly crossed Verdugo road when hit in the rear by the roadster driven by Mr. Welch, causing his car to overturn. According to witnesses, the car driven by Mr. Bonge overturned several times.

Drivers' Statements
Mr. Welch reported that he was driving south on Verdugo road, had crossed the intersection and was four feet beyond the car tracks when the two cars came together. His machine was turned around with the impact. His view was obstructed by three cars parked at the corner, he reported.

Mr. Bonge said he was driving not over seventeen miles an hour. Mr. Welch said he was driving between twelve and fifteen miles an hour.

Is Your Name On Our "Interest Pay-Roll?"

Our savings depositors have just "drawn their pay" again. In other words, their accounts have been credited with the interest their money has earned.

Are you one of these lucky, Thrifty ones? Is your name on our "interest pay-roll"?

Bring in your savings pass book and we will add the interest to your account. It may be much or it may be little. That will depend upon how earnestly and how regularly you have saved.

Remember that you can make it more next time by beginning now to SAVE MORE. And all the while, interest piling up on top of interest, will keep making the sum to your credit larger and larger.

Daily Greeting to News Readers

WE ARE TOO TOLERANT—

Of the conditions that break the hearts of children,
Of the free speech that tears down our liberties,
Of any industry that consumes the workers,
Of the lust that masquerades as freedom,
Of the exploiter who gives liberally to charity,
Of the forces that undermine the moral standards of the nation,
Of the injustice that increases our profits.

THE POSTOFFICE DEFICIT

The deficit in the postoffice department and the question of higher salaries for postal employees are engaging the thought of the people of the country as well as of members of Congress at the present time. Everyone seems to be agreed that the postoffice workers should be better paid and there is a feeling in many quarters that the postoffice department should pay its own way.

The only remedy suggested is to raise the rates on second class matter, and magazines and newspapers are naturally opposing this course, since the increase in rates added to the subscription price makes their cost prohibitive to many subscribers. While we could dispense with some of the newspapers and many of the magazines of the country, this class of matter does contribute to the advancement of civilization, the preservation of the Union and to the richness of life by disseminating information and knowledge. And though it may be fair to tax second class matter to pay its share in the deficit, this class of postal matter has not been responsible for all of the deficit—a long shot.

What about the tons of third class matter delivered daily, the mass of circulars which litter your mail and which is rarely read? The work which the handling of this class of mail involves is out of all proportion to the revenue which it brings in. A great deal of the enormous increase in matter going through the mails in the last few years is due to this cheap means of advertising. We are reminded of this with every visit of the postman.

The only justification for the government in the role of a circular distributor would be that this service returned a profit to the department, and yet this class of mail, which is an abomination to those who receive it, contributes a substantial part of the postal deficit. The rate on third class matter should be increased until it pays its own way, at least.

LABOR BECOMING CAPITAL

Labor unions have engaged successfully in the banking business in the Wall street district of New York and in mining in Virginia. And now four labor unions are planning to go into the real estate business with a capital of $1,000,000 for the construction of homes for the families of members. The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, the Furriers' Union and the Cap Makers' Union are the organizations that have authorized the preparation of plans for a block of buildings in New York city. The committee hopes to furnish homes with a maximum of light, air and playground facilities at a rental per room of from $8 to $10 a month, compared to the $15 to $20 a month which is now paid in the old style tenement buildings of New York. This they hope to accomplish through economies in large scale production. If this venture is successful they will proceed to build other blocks and the dream, according to one of the officials, "is of a great venture of slum clearance where the workers themselves will rid the city of the great shame of the slums and build in their place comfortable, sanitary homes with gardens and play space for the children." All honor and all success to the unions in this worth-while venture.

INDUSTRIES ON WEST COAST

Ten years ago there were few factories of any kind on the Pacific coast. The editor of The Evening News remembers very vividly how he was handicapped, when Glendale's first daily was young, because he could not purchase machinery or get repairs for machinery here on the coast. All kinds of manufactured products had to come from the east. But this condition is being changed rapidly, for the big manufacturers have learned that it is not going to be possible to enjoy the trade of the west unless they are prepared to give service to this rapidly growing section of the continent, for competition is springing up here that will very soon make the Pacific coast a rival of the Atlantic in the wealth of its manufactures.

Every eastern manufacturer whose products enjoy nationwide distribution has either established factories in the west, or is looking or will soon be looking for a location on this coast. The next ten years will see the west built up industrially as strong as the east. And wide-awake communities in Southern California are looking for these new industries and working to locate them within their own borders.

MODERATION IS GOOD

Very few men complain because their wives are good housekeepers, yet a Wisconsin man is suing for divorce for that reason. His wife has become so obsessed with the idea of being a good housekeeper that she neglects everything else, including the plaintiff.

A philosopher tells us that very frequently evil is good carried to extremes. Thrift is one of the most desirable of virtues, yet stinginess and miserliness are but thrift carried beyond the bounds of reason. Parental solicitude for children is praiseworthy, but when it becomes too sacrificial it breeds selfishness in the children, and if it grows too arbitrary it leads to evil results.

To live by a creed and to try to convert others to one's way of thinking is excellent, but to carry this to the point of intolerance is evil. To be interested in our fellow humans and to lend a helping hand to those in need is commendable, but should stop before it gets to the point of prying and meddling in other people's affairs. Moderation in all things is a good motto.

BETTER NEWSPAPERS

That the standard of journalism is being raised was the thought brought out at the convention of the American Association of the Teachers of Journalism, held in Chicago recently. This is because the readers are learning to discriminate and cast aside what is not worth reading. Not only those who make the newspapers but those who read them are getting a clearer conception of the value of real news and the worthlessness and harmfulness of that which is trivial, suggestive and vicious. Prof. Grant M. Hyde of the University of Wisconsin told the convention that if we are to have better papers we must train the young people to demand them and to read them intelligently. He advocates the study of newspapers in every high school and college.

Song hits have nothing on William of Doorn—he aint gonna reign no more—either.

GULLIVER!

Mellon and Tax Reduction

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Secretary Mellon takes the ground that excessive taxes encourage the tax payer to resort to tax evasion and a tendency to dry up their own source of supply.

Figures show that the aggregate of incomes of the $300,000 class dropped from almost a billion dollars under the 15 per cent maximum tax of 1916 to $365,000,000 in 1922 with the 58 per cent maximum.

He said: "Taxation should not be used as a club to punish success, but as a means of raising money to support the Government."

This is sound reasoning. It is no part of a Government's business to regulate the incomes of its citizens. That is done by the law of demand and supply, and by open and free competition.

The principle of regulating incomes is totally foreign to our form of civilization. It fits into the Russian idea, but not ours.

The business of Government is simply to raise money to carry on its normal operations.

Mr. Mellon says that the tax exempt securities now in the hands of the public amount to $13,- 234,000,000, and are increasing at the rate of about a billion dollars a year.

The fact that rich men invest their funds in tax-exempt securities is not the worst of it. That these securities are exempt from taxation is an inducement for every local community to increase its tax burdens. Eventually the business man has to pay. The burdens of city and town and county taxation are simply enormous, and are increasing in giant strides. It is claimed by the Secretary that the gift tax is unworkable and hampers legitimate business. He also claims that the publicity feature of the tax works hardship in business, as it exposes a concern's business to the inspection of competitors.

Mr. Mellon is an expert. He has made a success of his own business, and comes to public service from the peak of private efficiency. He is wealthy enough not to need the emoluments that he gets from his office. It would seem as if the country should take advantage of the services of such a man, and believe him disinterested until it is clearly proven that he is not so.

At least, his recommendations are worth listening to, and seriously considering.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

Life is one long battle; we have to fight at every step; and Voltaire rightly says that if we succeed, it is at the point of the sword, and that we die with the weapon in our hand.

Courage comes next to prudence as a quality of mind essential to happiness, it seemed to wise old Schopenhauer. It is true that no one can endow himself with either, since a man inherits both; still, if he has those qualities, he can do much to develop them by means of resolute exercise.

In this world, where the game is played with loaded dice, as they say, a man must have, to use Schopenhauer's phrase, a temper of iron, with armor proof to the blows of fate, and weapons to make his way against men.

"It is a cowardly soul that shrinks or grows faint and despondent as soon as the storm begins to gather, or even when the first cloud appears on the horizon," said Schopenhauer.

"Our motto should be, 'No Surrender'; and far from yielding to the ills of life, let us take fresh courage from misfortune."

As long as the issue of any matter fraught with peril is still in doubt, and there is yet some possibility left that all may come right, no one should think of anything but resistance—just as a man should not despair of the weather if he can see a bit of blue sky anywhere.

"Let our attitude be such that we should not quake even if the world fell in ruins"; such is Schopenhauer's advice. Our whole life itself—let alone its blessings—would not be worth such a cowardly trembling and shaking of the heart. Therefore, let us face life courageously and show a firm front to every ill.

However, it is possible for courage to be carried to an excess and to degenerate into rashness. It may be even said that a small amount of fear is necessary, if we are to exist at all in the world, and cowardice is only the exaggerated form of it.

This truth has been expressed by Bacon. He connects panic with pain, the personification of nature; and observes that fear is innate in every living thing, and in fact, tends to its preservation, but that it is apt to come into play without due cause.

Your dictation will tell you that the distinguishing feature of "panic" is that there is no clear notion of any definite danger bound up with it; that it presumes rather than knows that danger exists; and that, in case of need, it flees right itself as the reason for being afraid.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

Who's Who

John Edgar Hoover, 30, of Washington, has reached one of the most responsible positions in the country, directorship of the U. S. bureau of investigation, department of justice. He never served as a detective, but going into the department seven years ago as a law clerk, gradually assumed charge of activities against radicals and, subsequently, of violators of the various federal laws. When Attorney General Stone sought a successor for William J. Burns he picked Hoover as the man best equipped for the place.

After several months' service as acting director, Hoover now has been sworn in as director, thereby obtaining the full authority and pay of the position. Among the cases he handled were the deportation proceedings against Emma Goldman, Alexander Berkman and Ludwig Martens.

POPULAR CAMPS

Nearly 50,000 children, about half of them girls, are now in more than 600 organized summer camps in the United States. In all the camps, probably without exception, special attention is paid to physical growth and "character building," with manual instruction in attractive forms. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and similar organizations are prominent in this field.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as rather an unfortunate day, for Uranus, Jupiter and Saturn are all in malefic aspect.

While this rule prevails it is well to guard the mind against discouraging and destructive thoughts that affect the will.

There may be at this time misconceptions regarding the business opportunities of the individual and a tendency to see through the wrong end of the telescope.

During this planetary government the emotions may rule instead of the mind, which should be constantly barred against every sort of pessimistic trend.

The seers announce that discoveries regarding the power of mind and experiments in consciously controlling destiny through the direction of thoughts will progress toward practical results, despite opposing aspects of the stars.

It will be well not to start anything at this time, but rather to make plans and preparations for active work.

Business opportunities of a magnitude never previously contemplated are to mark 1925, it is foretold, and many great fortunes will be augmented.

Under this direction of the stars dissatisfaction regarding taxes will grow rapidly and much agitation regarding reduction will take place.

Saturn today frowns on the aged who may represent ideas of the past, for old things are rapidly passing away.

Reactionary ideas regarding dress and manners are foretold and they will illustrate the law of contrast, for new standards that spell progress are to be adopted in all lines of human endeavor.

Literature and art are to reflect the changing world even more than formerly and this means idealism will be strongly stressed once again.

Storms of great violence may mark the end of this month when there may be much need of aid to the poor; in many large cities.

Persons whose birth date it is may have a decidedly strenuous year and they should avoid overwork or worry. False friends may persuade them to risk money, but they should avoid speculation. Children born on this day may

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE
The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words.

The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

(RUNNING ACROSS)
Word 1. A sacred song.

Word 4. What you do when you hear a funny story.

(RUNNING DOWN)
Word 1. One of the leaves of a flower.

Word 2. Another word for "goodbye."

Word 3. A division of the year.

Lawson Heaters Are Odorless and Absolutely Safe

Nothing but Heat comes from the Lawson Odorless Gas Heater. No odor. No unburned gases. No smoke. No stuffy, devitalized air. Attractive. Compact. Gives more heat than larger and higher-priced gas heaters. Made in Aluminum, Nickel and Black finishes. No gas waste. The Lawson is the most economical of all gas heaters. Reliable Hardware, Furniture, Department Stores, and Gas Companies display the Lawson Odorless. The red hot inner core, the "Glowing Heart," forms a combustion chamber in which the gas is consumed at high temperature. All of the heat units are extracted. Lawson superiority is just as marked in water heating as in room heating. Lawson originated the copper coil tank heater a quarter century ago and has held the leadership ever since. No other gas heater has the "Glowing Heart." It is an exclusive, patented Lawson feature.

Veteran Sends Thanks For Christmas Cheer

The thanks of a veteran, speaking for disabled soldiers quartered at the soldiers' home at Sawtelle, for the Christmas cheer made possible by the people of Glendale, is contained in a letter sent to Mayor Spencer Robinson. The letter follows:

To all who participated in preparing the beautiful Christmas boxes from Glendale and surrounding towns:

They were the best yet. Whoever looked after the filling of them must have come in spirit and asked each one of the boys what he most needed, for every basket met with a warm welcome. You would hear one boy say, "Gee, here is a nice bar of toilet soap. Just what I wanted; I was just out." Another would say one thing and another something else, but the best of all that was in my basket was the shaving soap. I had just borrowed my bunkie's shaving mug with no soap in it. And then the beautiful handkerchief; I had just thrown my old one away.

As to the fruit, candy, nuts and other things too numerous to mention, they were all in their places, just as though someone had been here and made a complete investigation of the home to find out what we needed. From the first sight of the baskets to the last thing that they contained, everything was perfect, and as to the committee that handed them out, they were perfect, too. It was wonderful the way they gave them to us. It was a great pleasure to receive them. They made us happy just the way they did it.

They did not leave anyone out. Yes, everyone got a basket from Glendale. The letter everyone had received one, here came a big, good-natured young man dressed in gray and asked if anyone had been left out.

Your committee did their work grand. Your baskets were wonderful and highly appreciated by all of my company, in fact by the entire home.

So, hurrah for Glendale! Oh, long may she live and well may she prosper.

BENJAMIN F. RECTOR,
Company 3, Ward 3, Bed 7,
Soldiers' Home, Cal.

Religious Education School Starts Jan. 26

The Glendale School of Religious Education will hold sessions this year, January 26 to February 5, at the Central Christian church, Colorado and Louise streets. The purpose of the school is to train workers and teachers for the church school. Rev. Clifford A. Cole is dean, and Floyd Mercer is the registrar. The first class period will be held from 7 to 7:50 o'clock, and the chapel period is from 7:55 to 8:25 o'clock. Instructors will be Rev. Harry I. Rasmus, Jr., director of religious education, First Methodist church; Dr. C. F. Cheverton of the California Christian college; Dr. Bruce Baxter of the University of Southern California, and Mrs. L. W. Mallison, director of children's work in chautauques. During the chapel period, Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the First Methodist church, will deliver a lecture.

Girl Scout Captains Hold Council Meeting

Captains of local Girl Scout troops met last night in the Scout bungalow on Harvard high school campus. Routine business was considered preliminary to the council meeting next Monday night, when new officers will assume their duties. Miss Gertrude Bond has become captain of Troop 7, to succeed Mrs. Perry. At the meeting last night the council received its second-year charter.

Elder McElhany Shows Improvement Rapidly

Elder J. L. McElhany of 1412 East California avenue, president of the Pacific Union conference of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is recovering rapidly; it was reported today at Glendale hospital, where the patient is confined.

Threatening your home every minute of the day and night is the danger of fire. Unless you are protected against loss by fire insurance you may wake up bereft of all you've gained.

INSTALLATION EXEMPLIFIED BY LODGES

Royal Neighbors, Woodmen In Joint Ceremony at Hall Last Night

Installation ceremonies of Woodcraft were exemplified last night at the Knights of Pythias hall, South Brand boulevard and Park avenue, where officers-elect of Glendale camp No. 12886, Modern Woodmen of America, and Glendale camp No. 938, Royal Neighbors of America, were installed at a public event, attended by hosts of members and friends.

Mr. Furger of Los Angeles was installing officer for the Woodmen. He was assisted by a ceremonial escort from Pasadena. Mrs. Andrews of Pasadena, supreme officer, was installing officer, and Mrs. Shemer of Pasadena, ceremonial marshal for the Royal Neighbors' ceremony. Assisting with the latter was a staff of officers from Pasadena.

Officers installed for the Woodmen were: Frank L. Brines, consul; Frederick F. Sullivan, past consul; Harold L. Luce, adviser; Charles A. Bunting, banker; Henry Molz, clerk; Walter Johnson, escort; George Wesley Tucker, watchman; Earl W. King, sentry; Joseph A. Rockwell, Tulla A. Rucker, and J. Warren Davis, trustees; Dr. Harry C. Smith, Dr. Francis M. Collier and Dr. Edmund T. Remmen, physicians.

Installed as officers of the Royal Neighbors were: Maud Rucker, orator; Estella Hock, vice orator; Estella Rockwell, past orator; Ida Leach, chancellor; Lillian Howes, recorder; Veneta Bunting, receiver; Thelma Rucker, marshal; Leona Anderson, assistant marshal; Anna L. Smith, inner sentinel; Julia Gibbins, outer sentinel; Winnie Engle, manager; Dr. Harry C. Smith and Dr. Laura J. Brown, physicians; Maude Clinton, Modesty; Rosa Anderson, Faith; Auguste Behnken, Courage; Margaret LeDuc, Unselfishness; Eva P. Molz, Endurance; Mrs. Mayo, flag bearer.

After the formal part of the program, presentations were made. Mrs. Rucker, newly installed orator, presented Estella Rockwell, past orator, with a ring bearing the order's emblem. Mrs. Maude Rucker presented each of the installing officers for the Royal Neighbors with a bud vase.

T. A. Tucker was chairman of the committee in charge of the informal social hour enjoyed later. Refreshments were served by the Royal Neighbors.

Economy Plea Made In Message With Budget

carry out the economy program and to keep the state's expenses within its income. The people ultimately pay every dollar of taxes whether such taxation be direct or indirect, hence it is important that expenditures should be curtailed as much as possible. Uncertainty of the future of the State Welfare commission was touched upon, and it is evident from his message the governor expects the newly-appointed commissioners, George Squires and Ezra Decoto, to have a taming influence on the activities of the state railroad board.

In addition to allowing increases to practically all state institutions, Governor Richardson headed the demand of humanity, inflamed by the Hope Home fire at Playa Del Rey last summer, which cost more than a score of sub-normal children's lives. He placed in the budget appropriations of $410,167 for buildings and $150,000 for maintenance of the Pacific colony at Spadra, which will accommodate morons. There is nothing allowed, however, for Los Angeles state building, southern branch of California University site or Exposition Park Armory roof. Bills introduced in the legislature provide for such appropriations.

Men to Have Charge Of Missionary Meeting

Men of Central Christian church, missionary department will have charge of the monthly missionary meeting tomorrow night at the church. Following the weekly "Church Night" supper at 6:30 o'clock, the meeting will be held at 7:15 o'clock. The challenge of Christianity Through Church Evangelization" will be the subject. H. A. Lathrop will preside. Speakers will be A. B. Heacock, John M. Ray, W. B. Kirk, Rev. A. Cole. Floyd Mercer will direct the devotional hour. Music will be in charge of Frank Kaiser, with solos by H. S. Larkin. Amos Williams will preside at the piano. Proceeding the program there will be a business session with Mrs. R. C. Logan, president of the department, in charge. Executive members of the department will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the church.

Men of Presbyterian Church Plan Banquet

The quarterly banquet by men of Glendale Presbyterian church will be held at 6:30 o'clock Thursday night at the church. Reservations are being received by W. A. Horn, L. A. Hart or W. H. Barnes and at the church office.

San Gabriel Watershed Gets Hydraulic Survey

A hydraulic survey of the San Gabriel watershed is now being made by engineers, in an effort to locate dam sites that will tend to reduce forest fire risk, check erosion and conserve water, and a similar survey is in prospect for the watershed affecting the Glendale territory, it was brought out last night at a dinner meeting of the Los Angeles county unit, Southern California Conservation association.

Harvey Bissel, chairman of the Conservation association, presided. The prominent men present included representatives from many Southern California cities, including Francis Cutler of Riverside and Stuart Plinham, Los Angeles county forester.

FAMOUS ARTISTS TO APPEAR HERE

Calmon Luboviski, Violinist, And Clifford Lott In Recital Thursday

Calmon Luboviski, violinist, and Clifford Lott, baritone, both well known and popular artists with music lovers of the Southland, will appear Thursday night in recital at the attractive salon of Van Grove, Inc., at 337 North Brand boulevard. Their program will begin at 8:15 o'clock and admission will be by ticket only.

Mr. Luboviski numbers his friends in Glendale by hundreds, for he has appeared locally under the auspices of the Glendale Music club. An artist of like magnitude with Luboviski is Clifford Lott. They will be presented by Walter David, impresario of the Fitzgerald Music Co. Accompaniments will be played by the Knabe Ampico. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Van Grove will be hosts.

Elks Jinks Night Bouts Are Promised Snappy

Plans for the monthly jinx to be staged next Monday night were completed at last night's meeting of Glendale Elks' lodge. A card of snappy boxing bouts will be staged under the direction of Capt. Johnny Meyers of the Glendale fire department. Dan Kelly is chairman of the Elk committee in charge of the jinx. Glendale degree team will go to Alhambra Friday night to exemplify initiatory work of the order. All Elks are invited to accompany the team. It was announced, Bussels will leave from in front of the Elks' building on East Colorado street at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening.

Various Occupations Found In Legislature

ate, found it no easy task to please everyone. Assemblymen Jake Croter, George C. Cleveland and other members of the California Legislature who are ambitious young bachelors trying to get along in the world, are primping today in the cloak rooms and otherwise acting unnatural. Some fortunate solon is going to be picked this week by the amalgamated associations of beauty parlorists and hair dressers as their Moses to lead them out of the wilderness of local tonsorial Legislature. Two years ago the women didn't want regulation, at least not that suggested for barbers. Now they are going to ask laws for their own protection—and the barbers likely won't favor the beauty parlor women having the first and last say.

Who will champion their cause—that is the question? Outside of Esto Broughton not one of the five assemblywomen patronizes the beauty parlors, as a regular thing. It is said. It looks as though Mr. Croter, real estate salesman, former baseball umpire, sponsor of Chaplain Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffey, and the one man who scored 100 per cent passage of all legislation he introduced last session, would be the logical man for the women to interview.

The Wrath To Come

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, Copyright 1924

CHAPTER XIX

"That was what put me on the scent," Stoneham replied. "Twelve hundred and eight is the number of Cornelius Blunn's suite on the twelfth floor of this hotel."

Itash proceeded to pay his morning call upon the person whom the newspapers had christened "The Mid-European Napoleon of Modern Finance and Diplomacy." He was passed through into the presence of the great man within a very few minutes. He entered courteous, self-assured, dignified. He was reduced within a few seconds to a state of abject collapse. For years afterwards he remembered the horror of those moments. Cornelius Blunn's opening words filled him with blank amazement, his final ones stripped him of every shred of confidence and self-respect.

"I have been associated at different times," the latter concluded, "with rogues and hucksters, thieves, liars and fools. I have never entrusted the destinies of a great nation to a man who cannot keep his mouth shut, even in his sleep."

"But how could I tell?" the young man gasped. "How do I know even now that what you tell me is true?"

"Let me remind you of this," Blunn went on. "We talked for hours one night in Monte Carlo on the matter of steel. With two companies over here we are all right. Over the third we have no control or any influence. We discussed the possibility of this third company adding up the amount of your contracts with their two rivals—even leaving out the steel plates we sent you from Germany—and of presenting a report to the Limitation of Armaments Conference. You remember that conversation?"

"I remember it perfectly," Itash groaned.

"You left me with your mind full of the subject. It was at the time when Mademoiselle Cleo was your fancy. Very well, the other day Mademoiselle calls upon our friend Grant Slattery, and the next morning he visits the representatives of each one of those steel firms. Can't you see that trouble or suspicion at the Conference might upset everything we have done?"

"I know," Itash muttered. "Still, they will not discover anything that counts in time. We have been very clever. We have four secret harbors and two secret dockyards, besides the one in China. Each battleship we built was duplicated. The two were given the same name. We kept even the work people in ignorance. The flying ships are safe. They are up in Ulensk. Now I shall send a cable. The four battleships which have been launched must steam away northward. The four that are ready to be launched under the same name must take their place. Everybody will believe that it is the same ships returned. I am not afraid. There are American spies in Tokio, but our secret harbors have never been visited."

"Go and send your cable and come back again," Blunn directed. "Warn your people that without a doubt investigations will be made. Let your fleet be maneuvered in every way so as to confuse undesired onlookers. But remember, nothing must interfere with final assembly. You know the date."

Itash smiled for the first time. "On November the first," he said, "we have the most complete and wonderful plan of movement. Units of the fleet will appear from all sorts of unexpected places. They have their final meeting place only five days' steaming from San Francisco."

Blunn nodded.

"Go and send your cables," he ordered. "Then return here. I suppose you can rely upon your code?"

"My code is undecipherable to any human being except the person to whom it is addressed," Itash declared. "It is based upon the ancient priests' language of old, and untranslatable save by a Japanese scholar. That again is coded and has never left my person."

He opened his coat and waistcoat and showed a band around his underclothes. Blunn waved him away.

"Good!" he approved. "Be back within two hours. You will not sleep before then!"

For a few moments after the departure of Itash, Cornelius Blunn sat motionless in his chair, his eyes fixed upon the calendar which stood on his table. Finally he rose to his feet, opened the door and called to his secretary.

"Miss Herman," he enjoined, "for half an hour I am engaged. You understand? Not even a telephone message."

"I understand perfectly, sir,"

Views and Theatres News Notes

Compiled by Members of The Evening News Staff

TENT THEATRE

"Dolly of the Follies," now showing nightly at the Toby Walters' tent theatre on San Fernando boulevard opposite the Moreland factory, is the story of a New York chorus girl who returns to her home town after ten years on Broadway. The role of Dolly is played by Arline Francis. The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock nightly.

Toby Walters plays the part of the farm boy who gets a big kick out of Dolly's New York slang and tries to transform his own sweetie into a silk-stockinged, short-skirted, bobbed-haired flirt. The sensation of the play occurs when Dolly gives up the city life for love of a rustic who becomes, under her gentle ministrations, a leading citizen of the village and an expert on asparagus raising.

GATEWAY THEATRE

Dagmar Godowsky is probably the first motion picture actress to receive her make-up by airplane mail from California.

When Miss Godowsky prepared for her role in Rudolph Valentino's latest picture, "A Sainted Devil," she found her supply of grease paint almost exhausted. Her favorite brand of the important base for screen make-up is manufactured in Los Angeles and is not for sale anywhere else.

Miss Godowsky wired her order to the manufacturer in California, and two days later a dozen tubes of the desired shade of grease paint were delivered by air mail service at her dressing room in the Paramount Long Island studio.

"A Sainted Devil," with an all-star cast playing in support of Valentino, now showing the last times today at Gateway Theatre. It is said to be even better than "Monsieur Beaucaire," and you know what that was.

He opened his coat and waistcoat and showed a band around his underclothes. Blunn waved him away.

"Good!" he approved. "Be back within two hours. You will not sleep before then!"

For a few moments after the departure of Itash, Cornelius Blunn sat motionless in his chair, his eyes fixed upon the calendar which stood on his table. Finally he rose to his feet, opened the door and called to his secretary.

"Miss Herman," he enjoined, "for half an hour I am engaged. You understand? Not even a telephone message."

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"The Hole in the Wall" will open Wednesday at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre for its second week, announces Miss Eva Daniels of the Dobinson Players. The play will continue throughout the week, the curtain rising nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

Mary Worth, who portrays the role of Jean Oliver, has made a big hit with Glendale theatre-goers. Her work is truly excellent and constitutes one of the high spots of the play. Not less satisfying a performance is given by Joseph McManus, in the role of the reporter-detective who helps solve the baffling mystery of "The Hole in the Wall." Olaf Hytten, in the role of "The Fox," leader of the gang, is equally good.

The author of the play, Fred Jackson, is noted for the large number of New York hits he has written. He has never turned out a more exciting and interesting play than the present offering.

THE T. D. & L.

Thomas Meighan in "Tongues of Flame" concludes today at the T. D. & L. Theatre. Pola Negri in "East of Suez" starts Wednesday.

THE GLENDALE

Reginald Denny in "The Fast Worker" concludes today at the Glendale Theatre. Starting Wednesday, Harry Carey in "Roaring Rails" is the feature.

He undid his coat and waistcoat and released the chain which was wound around his body. At the end of it were two keys. With one, after a few minutes' adjustment, he opened the safe. From underneath a pile of papers he drew out a curiously shaped and heavy box fashioned of beaten gold.

On the left-hand side of the lid were the arms of the city of Berlin. On the right the arms of the Hohenzollerns. In the middle was an inscription in German.

To Cornelius Blunn, the faithful servant of this city and friend of his Kaiser.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGLY PAINTS HIS ROOF

"What are you going to do today, Uncle Wiggly?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy of the rabbit gentleman one morning. This was about a week after he had slid down hill with Uncle Butter in the dishpan.

"I am going adventuring," I think," answered Mr. Longears as he twinkled his pink nose, teasing-like, and not without skill, at his muskrat lady housekeeper. "Why don't you paint the shed roof?" asked Nurse Jane. "It leaks every time it rains, for the tin on the roof is full of little holes. Some red paint would stop up the holes and we would be dry for the rest of the winter. Go on, paint the roof. That will be an adventure for you."

"I will if I roll off the roof and fall," laughed the bunny, for the shed roof was slanting, like the kind of cellar door on which you slide if your mother will allow it.

"You must be careful and not fall," said Nurse Jane. "I do wish you would paint that roof."

"I think I shall," cried Uncle Wiggly, suddenly. "As you say, it may give me an adventure."

Getting out his stepladder, on which he could climb to the top of the shed roof, and taking with him a brush and a can of red paint, made from tomato skins the bunny gentleman got up on the roof. The snow had melted from it, so it wasn't slippery, as otherwise it would have been.

"Still it is slippery and sly enough," thought Uncle Wiggly, as he sat on the roof and looked toward the edge. "If I were to start rolling I'd never stop until I fell plonk to the ground. And that isn't so nice. I must be careful."

So, sitting down and moving along carefully, inch by inch, the bunny dipped his brush into the tomato red paint and began daubing it on the tin roof.

But just about this time out of the forest crept the bad Bob Cat with his sly little tail. Looking across the fields the Bob Cat saw Uncle Wiggly on the shed roof. "This is my chance," I can climb up to the roof by means of the step ladder, just as Uncle Wiggly did. And once I am on the roof with him he won't run away for fear of falling off. I'll have him at my mercy, but no mercy shall I show him! I'll nibble his ears."

So saying, and licking his hungry chops with his tongue, the Bob Cat crept softly to the hollow stump bungalow. Nurse Jane was washing the dishes and didn't see him. Uncle Wiggly was painting the roof and didn't notice the bad chap.

Up the ladder the Bob Cat softly began to climb. Uncle Wiggly moved his can of red tomato paint nearer him, but his paw slipped and, all of a sudden, the can of paint tipped over and it rolled, and it rolled and it rolled until it rolled right over the edge of the roof.

"Goodness sakes alive!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "I'm glad the can of paint rolled off the roof instead of me!"

And just then the Bob Cat took another step up the ladder and the can of red paint hit him plonk in the face, making him as red as a beet.

"Oh, wowzie! Wow!" howled the Bob Cat as he felt the red paint dripping all over him. "Oh, this is the worst that ever happened to me!" And then he fell off the ladder and bumped his eye. Dripping with red paint, like a nose-bleed, away he ran, and so he didn't get the bunny.

"Well, I certainly had an adventure painting the roof," laughed Mr. Longears, as he picked up the pail a little later and finished his work. And if the lead pencil doesn't bounce up and down so fast on its rubber end that it scratches the ceiling, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's cross-word puzzle.

Restore Health by Gland Treatment Says Science

According to a recent newspaper dispatch, the vigors of youth have been returned to men of mature age, through the beneficial results received from glandular treatment. This remarkable scientific work has been accomplished by the head physician and surgeon of one of California's State institutions.

The object of glandular treatment is to build up the devitalized glands so they may continue their normal function of supplying the vital glandular secretions so necessary to physical energy and perfect health.

Glendogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glendogen, for men and women, is obtainable at Ahlmann Drug Co., Brand at Harvard. Free booklets on request.—Advertisement.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

MECHANICAL EXERCISES WHILE REDUCING

There are 200 bones in the body connected to each other by joints and controlled by some hundreds of muscles.

Obviously Nature intended these bones and joints and muscles to be used. There are a great many people in the professions and other sedentary occupations that use only about one-fifth of these structures. The result is a general lowered efficiency because of the interdependence of all of the organs of the body. Very often the sedentary life results in an accumulation of fat, for even a moderate consumption of food without exercise, may be in excess of the needs and so it is stored away as fat.

It is reasonable to suppose that exercise for the overweight person is just as important, if not more so, as it is for the person of normal weight. However, where there is a great accumulation of excess fat, any severe exercise may be a dangerous procedure, on account of the weakened heart. Sometimes it is wiser to reduce without the aid of active exercises until the heart has been relieved of some of its burden.

There is a passive form of exercise which does not cause strain on the heart, because it does not call for any exertion on the part of the one taking it—and that is the form that is given by some exercising apparatus, such as rolling machines, electric vibratory chairs, electric shakers, etcetera, and manual massage, given by another person.

In nearly every city and large town there are reducing institutions. In the majority of these institutions not only are one or more mechanical exercisers used, but there is an intelligent supervision of the patron's diet. High class institutions will not take greatly obese persons unless they are recommended by their physicians, especially if sweating treatments are to be given. (We will write on the sweating treatment in another paper.)

If there is such an institution where you live, I believe you can make no better investment than to patronize it. Because these mechanical exercisers can cause lameness just as can active exercise, the same precautions have to be exercised in beginning active exercises; that is, to take them lightly at first and gradually increase the length of time and the strength.

There is one very great advantage in attending a high class institution of this kind, and that is, the fact that you are paying out your good money to help you reduce and get in good condition is a big moral help in making you how to the line in your diet.

Do you have to diet also? Yes, verily! You can go out from an extensive treatment and by a single over-indulgence in food undo most of the good it has done you; in other words, you can eat more than the treatments take off. Now, obviously, you are not going to reduce very much even with their help, if you are going to do this.

If I were running an institution of this kind, I would refuse to take a patron who would not give me a written agreement to the effect that she would cooperate with me in the matter of diet, for a patron who is not using a normal amount of food is usually dissatisfied, not realizing that she herself is to blame and is a detriment to the business.

The expense of running such an institution is very heavy and naturally a course may seem rather expensive, but I believe it is an expense that is very much worth while and with your increased efficiency and lessening of table expenses, you will be able to meet it. No, I have no financial interest whatever in any reducing concern. My interest is the same interest I have in any legitimate health promoting concern.

I have found that most of the reducing institutions I have investigated are doing splendid work. Most of them are following scientific methods of diet in accordance with the principles have given in the column. If you should go to an institution that is not doing so, just explain to the manager that you are going by my instructions as to diet and want to continue them.

Tomorrow—The Benefits Of Exercising.

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one which we enclose free of charge in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this office. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to distinguish for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters I receive and am sorry it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest, don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

PERSONAL NOTES

Mrs. Q. A. Rice has moved from 212 South Columbus avenue to 609 East Doran street.

Mrs. W. H. Davis of 3722 Seneca avenue in the Atwater district, who has been confined to her home for several days on account of illness is able to be out again.

W. E. Green and mother of 129 West Windsor road left yesterday for Coronado to spend two months visiting relatives there and in nearby communities.

Miss Lizzie Watkins of 112 South Everett street left Friday morning for Pennsylvania, where she will visit with relatives and friends. She plans to be gone for one year.

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue enjoyed a recent visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Tuttle of Big Sandy, Montana. The Tuttles were formerly members of Mr. Norton's last congregation, at Moravia, Iowa.

Miss Anne Morgan of 1638 North Verdugo road and Mrs. Georgia Wagoner of 526 South Central avenue returned Sunday night from Coronado, where they have been for the past two weeks. They were registered at the Hotel del Coronado while away.

Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. C. B. Camerer, who have been guests for three weeks of Lieutenant Camerer's parents Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Camerer of 319 West Garfield street, left yesterday for Vallejo, where Lieutenant Camerer is stationed at the Naval hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fraunfelder of Ohio, and Mrs. George W. Wilkins of 406 Salem street were dinner guests Sunday at Mrs. Clara Fry, 409 Salem street. The visitors from Ohio are making a nine months' tour of the west having left their home in the early part of the summer.

Mrs. A. I. Iverson of Milwaukee, Wisconsin arrived here recently and is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Rapp of 405 Camerer place. Mr. and Mrs. Rapp of San Pedro and Miss Beryl Rapp of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Romig of Glendale were Sunday guests in the Rapp home.

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland of 415 East Stocker street returned Sunday morning from a trip to Prescott, Arizona, where she visited with relatives during the holidays. Mr. Gilliland made the trip with Mrs. Gilliland but returned after Christmas. Mrs. Gilliland reports intensely cold weather in Arizona stating that during the holidays it was eighteen degrees below zero and that it had been reported as being twenty-two degrees below zero in the Grand Canyon.

Mrs. M. S.: "Kindly send me a good recipe for stuffed peppers." Answer: Baked peppers are stuffed in many ways. Most generally with ordinary hash and breadcrumbs scattered on top. Often with mixed chopped (left over) vegetables mixed with bread crumbs. But here is a recipe which is particularly delicious:

Cheese-Stuffed Baked Peppers: Prepare your green sweet peppers by cutting them in half, lengthwise, removing seeds, then parboiling them by covering with hot water and letting boil for about ten minutes (this removes that strong taste from the peppers and also helps to make them more tender when baked). Now drain them from the water and stuff them with the following: Mix together one and one-half cups of either cream cheese or cottage cheese, three well-beaten eggs, one-half cup of bread crumbs, one tablespoon of melted butter, one-half teaspoon of salt, a generous pinch of pepper and a dash of paprika. This amount of filling will stuff four pepper-halves. Bake in a moderate oven till nicely browned and well heated through. Serve very hot.

B. M.: "Kindly republish the pepper relish recipe which appeared the week of October twentieth."

Answer: I do not always undertake to reprint recipes which have appeared recently; for my readers can go to the "recreation room" of the newspaper, look over the files of the paper, and copy out the recipes for themselves. You see my column space is so limited and there are so many housekeeper friends who ask for recipes which have never appeared. But the one you ask for is a short one:

Pepper Relish for Immediate Use: Mix together one minced, uncooked head of cabbage and six large green sweet peppers also uncooked and chopped (seeds removed). Drain for a few minutes, then add one cup of sugar, a scant one-fourth cup of salt, two tablespoons of mustard seed and enough cold vinegar just to cover. This makes two quarts of relish.

Miss S.: "How can I wash a light blue flannel dress?" Answer: I think it would be safer to dry-clean it with gasoline as washing might shrink it. Or, better yet, have a professional cleansing establishment do it, and it will no doubt be as good as new.

A Constant Reader: "Have any of your readers a recipe for Danish pastry?" Answer: Let us hope that someone will send this to me for publication.

Chats On Beauty

ANSWERED LETTERS

G. R.—An oily skin shows there is imperfect elimination. Daily warm baths followed by cold showers will tone the skin all over the body and relieve the abnormal condition on your face. But you cannot get rid of the tendency to an oily complexion unless you correct the cause for it.

You may be in need of a general building up as a thin face and flabby muscles usually indicate a lowered vitality and a sluggish digestive system could easily result from such a condition. Take daily setting up exercises, breathe deeply of fresh air and live on a diet in which there is plenty of nourishment without too much tax on the digestion. One of the cheapest and most effective methods of keeping yourself in health is to belong to a gymnasium such as those connected with the Y. M. C. A. You will be more apt to take the exercises this way than if you took them alone at home.

R. G.—Catarrh is only a cause for bad breath. Sometimes teeth cause this trouble or the stomach. Trace the difficulty to the source and correct it. If you have a tendency to pyorrhea it would not only cause a bad breath, but upset your digestion and lead to many other troubles through poisoning your whole system.

Esther—You can do nothing with your eyebrows until they have grown long enough to brush into a line. Very few people tweeze the brows any more.

Pauline T. H.—As you need to reduce so many parts of your body, the simplest method is to reduce your entire weight when your whole figure will be in proportion. Eat less starch, sugar and fats.

Mrs. T. D. S.—As your hair was naturally curly before you cut it off, the curl will be there again, after it has grown long enough to make the turns. Use an astrigent once a week and cream each day for a skin a trifle sagged and dry.

Millie T. D.—The reason why your pivot teeth are a different shade may be due to indifferent cleaning in your daily care of them; or you may have matched the teeth at a time when you had your own teeth professionally cleaned and bleached. The only way to avoid such a contrast is to choose a shade that matches the natural teeth ordinarily; for instance, you could probably make a perfect match in shade at the present time.

Two Sisters—Always rinse with cool and then very cold water, after you have bathed the face and throat with very warm or hot water. Hot water opens the pores. If you do not contract them again with cold water the skin goes coarse and apt to fill with blackheads.

PAAVO NURMI TO REMAIN AMATEUR

Rickards to Make Offer to Flying Finn to Become 'Pro' Runner

By DAVID J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—According to reports at hand, Paavo Nurmi will not turn "pro." He will remain an amateur, and will be approached, it is said, by agents of Mr. Rickard, or by the gentleman himself with an offer to turn professional and so, it is alleged, will Jole Ray, Jimmy Connelly and a few more of the leading amateur middle distance runners.

Our Mr. Rickard, it seems, saw $40,000 worth of public ease into Madison Square garden for the Nurmi debut last week and thinks that something should be done about it. Show our Mr. Rickard an orphaned dollar and he'll show you a nice warm pocket.

"I haven't seen Nurmi yet, but I'm going to look him up right away," he was quoted as saying last night. "I can show him how to make a lot of money running as a pro."

The writer might mention also that he can show Mr. Rickard how to save himself a lot of trouble. Paavo Nurmi will not turn "pro." It was not necessary for Hugo Quest, his man of business, and other friends to issue statements today to this effect when Nurmi himself could not be reached.

The Finn is far too smart to follow this golden mirage. He has only to look back toward Helsinki, where Hannes Kolehmainen is still a man of public prominence in spite of the fact he is athletically passe, while his brother, Willie, almost as good as Hannes, never got himself very much as a professional.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVID J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Publication of the testimony in the Dolan-O'Connell business by Judge Landis has served only to endow the affair with a deeper air of mystery, according to the findings expressed by our best minds today. O'Connell, without undue parley or preamble, freely admitted his complicity in the transaction and just as freely named a few names.

He charged Cozy Dolan with being the inspiration of the bright idea of fixing a pennant race already pretty thoroughly fixed by natural means, and cited Frank Frisch, Ross Young and George Kelly as accomplices. All four denied the charges but Dolan's repudiation lacked both spontaneity and horse sense and he was convicted. The others issued denials of adequate emphasis and were absolved.

In brief, the testimony covered nothing beyond what the public has known for months. Yet, the feeling will not down that there is an insidious something lurking in the depths of the entire affair. I think it is safe to assume that Judge Landis feels the same way about it but his hands are tied by lack of a fresh or even a discernible trail.

On the morning the scandal broke the writer had the doubtful pleasure of routing the judge out of his bath in order to inquire for further particulars. Among other things, he said:

"I have gone as far as it is humanly possible to go on the evidence presented. But I want you to understand that this case is not closed. It is merely marking time."

The testimony bears out Landis in every particular. On the face of it, there was nothing to be done beyond what he did.

Blessing In Disguise

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News.
When the Cleveland Indians swapped the veteran Coveleskie for Pitcher Byron Speece and Outfielder Carl Smith of the Senators a while ago the pros and cons of the deal, as far as affecting the playing strength of the two clubs was concerned, were discussed at some length.

The fact that Speece found himself doing a little involuntary swapping was overlooked. As a matter of fact, however, the young pitcher, whether he likes it or not, traded a possible chance at a slice of another world's series money for an opportunity to pitch regularly and win his place in the baseball sun.

As Manager Harris' plans shape up now he will have available for regular mound duty next summer Walter Johnson, Vean Gregg, Stanley Coveleskie, Joe Martina and Fred Marbury. Johnson, Martina and Marbury delivered as regulars last season. Gregg and Coveleskie were obtained in recent months with the one idea of strengthening the pitching staff for immediate results at the start of the season. Their acquisition made it clear that Harris wants to start the year with a pitching staff ready made.

With this condition existing, Speece's activities with the club probably would have been confined to relief pitching—his forte last year.

Now, it's hard to step into the breach once in a while and save a ball game with the plaudits of the multitude ringing in your ears. But the average pitcher finds many more thrills in going into the box every fourth day or so and taking his regular crack at the opposition.

The Indian bosses are not building for a pennant next year. They are rebuilding an entire new team for some years to come. The prime requisite of a new team is a good young pitching staff—one that can stand the gaff for some years. The youngster who has the stuff will get his chance.

In their efforts to build such a staff they went after Speece, recognized as one of the best looking youngsters in the league last season. Speece was particularly impressed with Byron. One of his first thoughts after the close of the 1924 season was the possible acquisition of Speece. Harris' willingness to part with one or two youngsters paved the way for Speece's shift to Cleveland.

Speece's main asset is a submarine ball, similar to the one that made Carl Mays famous. He has good control, hard to acquire with such a delivery. As one old-timer remarked, "some of the guys can't pitch 'em over right side up."

Speece's opportunities with Cleveland are made all the more glistening, due to the fact that most of Speece's likely looking youngsters are southpaws and Speece gives him a young right-hander to team with them.

Shaute and Edwards are lefties of some experience and Speece has a couple of other good lookers. In addition to Speece, Speaker has as righthanders Emil Levesen and Benny Karr. In addition to George Uhle, veteran in service, though young in years, who should be the pitching ace the coming season. Sherrod Smith, another lefty, is one of the few vets to be kept in the reorganization plans.

The year holds much for Speece as far as pitching is concerned, though his chances of cashing an extra check next fall were shattered on the trading block.

When you find a man who has no prejudice, you have found one who has no conviction.

Sportdom All Over

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Anyone who knows or pretends to know anything about writing for the screen will tell you a good comedy is the hardest form of entertainment to set down on paper. Our great screen comedians are not great because of their innate or practiced artistry, but because of the setting given them by the story they interpret. Harold Lloyd isn't a great comedian, but he always is surrounded by situations that are funny and he has on his payroll at least five so-called 'gag' men who do nothing else but search their upper-stories for comedy ideas. Three or four good 'gag' men will make a Lloyd out of most any man who shows slightest hint of the comedy nature.

Up on Hal Roach's 'lot' in Culver City there is a young fellow named Glenn Tryon. You probably never have heard of Glenn Tryon. Yet Hal Roach has been trying for more than a year to make a Harold Lloyd of this same Tryon.

Tryon is a natural born comedian and Ye Ed predicts that Tryon, if given the proper vehicles, will be as great as Harold Lloyd as a comedian inside 12 months. Tryon has latent comedy ability that never has been roused simply because he hasn't had two very important essentials to success of any comedian on the screen—good stories and a good director.

There is one essential Tryon has had throughout his year or more of hard, conscientious work to get to top—a reputable producer in the person of Hal Roach. But reputable producer isn't enough as Tryon's case plainly proves.

Ye Ed was talking with a writer not long ago who is a real 'idea' man when it comes to framing situations and plot material for comedy production. This writer outlined a story to Ye Ed which if this young Tryon will do, will make him another or an even greater comedian than Harold Lloyd. This one story will make him.

Ye Ed picks this fellow Tryon as an example because we know what Tryon can do if he is given half a chance. He hasn't been given that chance under Hal Roach's banner. We mention this one particular instance because Hal Roach recently associated with him the greatest comedy director in Hollywood—R. Richard Jones.

Remember 'Mickey' in which Mabel Normand appeared four or five years back. Jones directed 'Mickey.' 'Mickey' was so good that three distinct pictures were made from what was originally intended for one feature comedy. And all three made 'a barrel of money' and were funny.

Hollywood has been yelping heads off for good comedy material and stories like Harold Lloyd's 'Grandma's Boy' for past two or three years. Here's how these yelpers can get another 'Grandma's Boy' and by same reasoning here's how Hal Roach can make another and greater comedian than Harold Lloyd with this man Glenn Tryon. Roach is trying to make a Lloyd of Tryon. That's why we make this suggestion.

Give this fellow Tryon another 'Grandma's Boy,' put Jones back of the microphone and Roach back of the production and the Roach studios will have another Harold Lloyd.

Some will ask why Ye Ed should think himself a 'picker' of 'Lloyds' and give us the laugh because we presume to tell Hal Roach how to run his business. We're not trying to run Roach's business. We're trying to give the 'under dog' a boost. We're trying to convince the motion picture industry that it needs not only new faces on the screen but new ideas behind the camera.

Hal Roach has proved his inability to bring out the comedy ability of one of his stars. Ye Ed knows that star has Lloyd ability. Hearing an outline of story mentioned above we thought of the Roach star.

When Colleen Moore was an 'extra' Ye Ed was reviewing pictures for one of the biggest and most influential trade papers in New York—Motion Picture News in New York. We tried to sell a New Yorker a contract. Miss Moore's services could have been got at that time for less than $200 a week. The same man has admitted since that he missed the chance of a lifetime.

We were dramatic editor of leading afternoon paper in Detroit two years ago when while reviewing a Gloria Swanson picture we noticed a new face in a 'bit' part. Go back over that paper's files and you'll find where we wrote 'watch this girl.' That same girl today is being starred by Warner Brothers. Her name is June Marlowe.

When Paramount starred young Douglas Fairbanks we predicted he would never make another picture after his first because he was so terrible as an actor. He never did. That was going on two years ago.

We cite these instances to show that we once in a while get an idea that's worth something. Hal Roach can have the idea expressed above for his star Glenn Tryon free of charge. If he'll give it a trial we'll predict another Lloyd on the Roach 'lot.' Harold Lloyd, you remember, was virtually 'made' by Hal Roach.

Hal Roach knows comedy production but he has been taking the wrong course with this fellow Tryon. If Tryon was an ordinary slapstick variety of 'lot' material, there would be some excuse for the mediocre material put back of his production. Here's a hunch for you, Hal. It won't cost you a penny.

CASABA TOSSERS IN TRYOUT TILT

Heavyweights Meet Burbank Wednesday Afternoon; Midgits Victors

The first and last practice game for the Glendale heavyweight basketball team comes off tomorrow afternoon in the Harvard High gym at 4 o'clock when they meet the Burbank quintet. Coach Pierce has his team organized now and is ready to give the Burbankers a real game. Upon the outcome largely depends Glendale's chance for a good showing against Alhambra Friday.

Both the Moors and the South Pasadena Tigers have been going like wildfire lately and will both give the Dynamiters some tough opposition.

Ervin Jensen or Roland Hodder will probably get in the game as centers. Bud Elliott, Bill Bradbury, and Francis Hardey have been showing some real form as forwards. Cecil Zaun and Louis Dotson will probably start as guards.

Coach Harry Hicks' class C bunch won its last practice game yesterday when it took the Franklin Midgets down the line by a 28 to 16 score yesterday in the local gym. Hicks used a number of men and the locals' teamwork easily won the game from the Printers. Reed, Osier, Sunderland, Morgan, Wilson, Lovell, Killinger, and Randall were those who got in the game.

TO-NIGHT'S CARD

The ten-round battle tonight between Jimmy McLarnin and Fidel La Barba, flyweights, at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena will mark the first card staged under the new boxing laws. Thirty rounds of milling are scheduled for tonight's show and every bout arranged looks like a corker. McLarnin and La Barba have met twice over in a four-round route, McLarnin taking the first battle by a slight and questionable edge, while the second was called a draw. The winner of tonight's fracas will look to a bout with Pancho Villa, flyweight champion. Johnny Lamar and Julius Jessick will step six rounds in the semi-windup at 130 pounds. This pair staged a fast and furious battle recently for four rounds, and dopsters are pointing to an exciting time when the two sluggers meet tonight. Ernie Owens and Young George are scheduled to go six rounds in the special spot with the weight at 158 pounds. Sailor Ashmore and Bobby Bridges are down for four rounds of milling at 147 pounds, and Freddie Ellis and Dutch Crozier open the show with a four-round battle at 135 pounds.

FLOWERS FAVORITE

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta colored middleweight, ruled a 2-to-1 favorite today to defeat Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., in their twelve-round bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night. Delaney has requested that he be given a championship match with Harry Breh if he gains the nod over Flowers.

STIRBLING VICTOR

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 13.—Young Stribling of Atlanta, decisively outpointed Hughie Walker of Kansas City in a ten-round bout here last night. Stribling won every round, but, apparently, he could not hurt the Kansas City iron man. Stribling weighed 173 pounds and Walker 172.

IZZY TANNER WINS

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 13.—Izzy Tanner, Los Angeles, welterweight, outslugged a fellow Californian—Red Uhlan—in a ten-round bout on the Armory boxing card here last night. Uhlan, a southpaw, bothered Tanner with his peculiar style, but Tanner was the better puncher of the two.

BENNY RECOVERING

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, was reported today to be out of danger from the attack of grippe which caused his collapse last week.

Upholstery Firm on Last Week of Sale

This is the last week of the mid-winter sale of the De Luxe Upholstery Co., 2773 Broadway, Eagle Rock, and living room furniture that reflects character and good taste is offered at reductions of 10 to 33-1-3 per cent, says G. L. Flynn, the proprietor. The sale includes upholstered groups and odd pieces made in Mr. Flynn's shops for display purposes and he says these are real values in high class furniture. All pieces are plainly marked with original prices and sale prices as Mr. Flynn says he wants his customers to know real reductions are made.

Even repented, of course; but it is probable that she spent many twilight hours in after years thinking how good the apple tasted.

COAST DIRECTORS' MEET ENDS TODAY

Ratification of Agreement On Post-Season Games Is Sole Business

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—Ratification of a ten-year agreement between the American association and the Pacific Coast Baseball leagues for a post-season series to be played in Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco each October was the sole business scheduled before the coast directors who went into final session here today.

An amendment to the original plan proposed today was that when Salt Lake won the coast pennant the first three games of the series would be played in the Utah city.

With William Lane, owner of the Salt Lake club, failing to confirm reports of his purchase of the Vernon club from Ed Maier and to announce the formal sale of his Utah interests, a war between Maier and William Wrigley, owner of the Los Angeles club loomed.

Prevent Trouble
"I understand the Vernon and Los Angeles clubs have a contract to play in Washington park here until the end of the 1925 season," declared Charles Graham of the San Francisco club. "Under that contract the Vernon and Los Angeles clubs shared concessions. I believe if Los Angeles tried to play in its new park this year, Ed Maier will have a big claim against the Angels. Sale of Vernon to Lane would prevent trouble, as Lane and Wrigley are friends and both clubs could play at the new Angel park."

The Los Angeles club made 22 per cent profit last season, it was announced.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—To get Shocker away from St. Louis the New York Yankees had to provide the Browns with three specimens of pitching talent in exchange—one of whom they had to buy in order to put the trade over.

It seems that the Browns were anxious to get a young hurler from Toledo by the name of Giard. Giard had been looked over by the scouts and admired by several of them, but most of all was admired by the St. Louis hunters. The St. Louis owners, however, were not in a mood to pay any money for him.

When the Shocker affair was first broached to the Browns by the Yankees, the former were not a bit warm about the trade. Maybe that was simulated frost—the premeditated bashfulness of a horse trader, who knows what he is after and what he is going to do, but imagines that he is a good actor and can keep the other fellow from knowing it.

The trade was kept simmering before a "yes" could be had, until the Yanks were ready to give Bush, Gaston, kid pitchers, and finally to buy Giard from Toledo for $10,000. Joe O'Brien of the Toledo club knew what was going on and was in Chicago where the deal was put through before the sun was up.

Jimmy Burke, who managed the Toledo club last year is so confident that Giard will make good that he says that the Yanks made a mistake in not keeping him and calling the trade off.

Burke thinks Giard will make the best kid pitcher in the American league if he conducts himself properly and absorbs a few little details necessary to make him a star. Giard won twenty games and lost seventeen in the American Association in 1924. And at the finish of the season he was a much better pitcher than he was at the beginning. His earned run average was 3.62, which isn't bad for a kid.

Shocker, according to umpire Connelly has seen them all come and go for many years in that circuit.

If by any chance Shocker should not be able to go very well in 1925, and Giard should prove to be a three-ply double-A tosser for the Browns, the Yanks may have cause to regret that they planned their hopes to a veteran and passed up this kid so much wanted by St. Louis and for whom by the way, the Yanks paid a very pretty price, perhaps as much as $10,000.

VERNON BASEBALL CLUB MAY SWITCH

Salt Lake Millionaire Says He'll Give $225,000 For Maier Stock

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—While directors of the Pacific Coast baseball league were in final session here today, H. William Lane, Salt Lake millionaire, announced he had offered Ed Maier, owner of the Vernon club $225,000 for the Tigers' franchise. He said Maier had not yet accepted the offer.

Walter Johnson, pitching ace of the Washington Americans, had a long talk here today with Tom Hickey, president of the American association. Hickey told him several association clubs would be glad to sell him an interest. He said St. Paul would give Johnson a large or small share of stock, just as he desired.

It was intimated by Lane he would retain a controlling interest in the Salt Lake club and would direct the affairs of the Bees this season, providing Maier failed to take up his offer for Vernon.

Rumors of Deals
With the announcement that Lane had not completed his deal, there were reports that Walter Johnson, Larry Arnold of Lincoln and others were seeking the Tigers, but these reports were believed to be based largely on rumors and sale of the club to anyone except Lane was regarded as extremely doubtful.

The league directors failed to take action barring players from taking part in winter games. Some of the directors said that, if the players were barred from winter games, they should be paid salary for twelve months of the year.

POPULAR LIBRARIES

As part of the school extension work, popular school libraries are to be established in the townships and capitals of the Provinces of Panama as centers for community culture.

SCHOOL HEAD ASKS $2,400,000 BONDS

White Tells Exchange Club Education of Young Is Real Business

The present status of the Glendale school system was outlined this noon by Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, in an address before the local Exchange club, wherein he urged support of the proposed $2,400,000 bond issue at the special election of February 10.

The meeting was the regular weekly luncheon of the club, held at the Masonic temple, at 226 South Brand boulevard, President William Baker presiding.

Mr. White outlined the joint survey of school needs recently completed by the Glendale city Board of Education and the Glendale Union High school Board of Trustees, as a result of which the figure $2,400,000 was arrived at as the minimum required to care for present and near future school needs—$1,200,000 for the city school system and $1,200,000 for the Glendale Union High school district.

Schools, Business
The schools of the city are a business, Mr. White pointed out, and should be conducted as such. The whole future of the boys and girls of the city may depend upon the sort of training they receive in the public schools, he argued. Mr. White then outlined in detail the joint expansion plan as hitherto published in full in The Glendale Evening News, and urged voters to support the program at the polls on February 10. The club voted to refer the matter to the board of directors for report and recommendation.

President Baker was elected by his fellow Exchangeites to a life membership in the Order of the Red Garter.

A communication from Dr. Henry R. Harrower, now in England, was read by D. Ripley Jackson.

Too Many Traffic Laws, Says Luncheon Speaker

going to or coming from the metropolitan area.

"Glendale faces the problem of intensive traffic. Situated as it is, it is on the highway from the mountains to the beach, and gets travel in both directions, as well as the vast amount of travel into and out of Los Angeles. Added to all this is the traffic in and out of the San Fernando and La Cresenta valleys, of which Glendale is the natural outlet.

"Thus the local traffic problem here is vital. For that reason my suggestion is that the Los Angeles Traffic commission, instead of being a city commission for city purposes, should extend its scope to the entire county, for the traffic problems of the urban districts become the traffic problems of the metropolitan area.

"Any traffic commission must take into consideration more than one factor. No body will exist any length of time which considers only the traffic angle. The needs of the community and the economic side of the question are just as vital as solving the traffic problems and congestions. Any traffic commission must be well aware of the community interests. The political side must be eliminated entirely."

In reply to a question by Chief Police Fraser, Mr. McClintock said boulevard stops were effective in speeding up traffic, but should not be thrust upon the public too rapidly. Such stops should be clearly marked, and streets designated as thorough arteries should not be too close together, he said.

Mayor Robinson, in a short address, complimented the members of the Glendale Traffic commission on the efficient work they have accomplished, and said the only dispute between the commission and the City Council arose over the question of boulevard stops. C. R. Sneathen, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Traffic commission, told about the workings of that organization with the Los Angeles City Council. O. C. Wyman, field secretary of the Los Angeles organization, was present at the meeting.

SAN DIEGO HARBOR TO ANCHOR FLEET

Coronado Roads Chosen for Stopping Off Place on Way to Hawaii

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 13.—Complete plans for the anchoring here of the United States fleet before it proceeds to Hawaiian waters in April for its annual maneuvers have been made by navy officers stationed here and forwarded to the commanding officers of the chief divisions of the fleet, it was learned today.

According to present plans seventy-eight anchorage areas have been made in Coronado roads, while eighteen anchorages and nine mooring buoys have been made inside San Diego harbor, which will be capable of anchoring fifty-four destroyers. While the fleet is temporarily located here it will bring more than 25,000 navy officers and men to San Diego.

JAPANESE-RUSSO TREATY HELD UP

Oil Rights in Saghalien Delay Orientals in Signing Pact

TOKIO, Jan. 13.—The Japanese legation announced the treaty by which Japan will recognize Soviet Russia, will be signed before the end of the month, the single remaining point of issue being the proportion of the oil concessions in Saghalien to be given to Japan.

Daily sessions are being held by Japanese Minister Yoshizawa and Russian Ambassador Karakhan to complete negotiations.

Japan Regrets Hughes' Cabinet Resignation

TOKIO, Jan. 13.—Foreign Minister Shidehara, commenting today on the resignation of Secretary of State Hughes, said: "His signal contribution to the cause of friendship between America and Japan will be remembered with deep appreciation. During Secretary Hughes' term of office there were many occasions when I had reason to appreciate his frankness and businesslike manner of approaching all discussions."

"I may say that in my diplomatic experiences I have never dealt with a representative of another country who had more instant or broader comprehension of any matter presented for his consideration. It is with regret I have heard of the retirement of this great secretary of state from official service."

Schooner's Crew Lost When Vessel Grounds

GREENWICH, Conn., Jan. 13.—Repeated but fruitless efforts to communicate with the schooner Anna Sophia of New York, aground on the Scotch capes' rocks in Long Island sound, led this afternoon to the fear that those aboard might have perished. It was thought the crew might have tried to row the mile that separated them from the mainland. The small boats, it could be seen, are gone, but no trace of them can be found along the shore. Observation failed to detect any sign of life aboard the schooner.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Price trends were higher in all of the principal speculative markets today. Under heavy buying, wheat and rye established new high prices for the season on the Chicago board of trade; cotton regained part of the loss sustained in the latter part of last week, and on the stock exchange, the stocks of industrial and railroad companies continued the forward price movement which has been in progress, with occasional setbacks, for two months or more.

Speculative interest again centered in the oil stocks. Large blocks of the stocks of Standard Oil and independent oil companies, both on the curb and in the listed market, were taken by traders and investors today at the highest prices for the movement, in some cases the highest for a year or more, in response to the recent improvement in the industry and the attitude of investors towards the oil shares. After two hours the pace of the market slowed down and other groups were pushed to the front.

Industrial stocks were supplied to the market quite freely on profit-taking, many traders taking profits in these stocks in order to switch into the oils and motors.

After a period of inactivity the railroad stocks were pushed to the front around the noon period and with New York Central in the lead, a number of prominent stocks in this class made short excursions to higher price territory. Stock sales today, 2,219,000 shares; bonds $16,864,000.

Knights Give Degrees And Plan Encampment

Red Cross and Malta degrees were conferred on three candidates by Glendale commandery, Knights Templar, at the regular meeting last night. Those taking the degree work were Stephen S. Packer, Don Packer and C. C. Coghlin.

Commander W. W. Worley of Glendale commandery and Junior Past Commander Robert M. Grubling attended a meeting of commanders and officers of Southern California commanderies at Los Angeles last night, when plans for the trip to Seattle to the triennial grand encampment in July were discussed. Glendale drill team will compete in the national competitions at the encampment. A large number of Glendale Templars will make the trip. Many Glendaleans and their wives will join Templars from six other commanderies in and around Los Angeles in a twelve-day trip to Alaska, following the grand commandery sessions at Seattle. A special boat has been chartered. At the meeting of Glendale commandery next Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ogg, former active workers in Templar ranks here, and now residents of Alhambra, will be honored at dinner and a social meeting.

CHARLES J. HATZ
AGAIN PRESIDENT*Re-elected to Head Glendale
Merchants' Association
At Directors' Meet

Charles J. Hatz was re-elected president of the Glendale Merchants' association at a meeting of the new board of directors today. The meeting of the board, three members of which were elected at the general meeting of the association yesterday, took place in the executive offices of the J. A. Newton Electric Co. on South Brand boulevard. H. M. Butts of the Monarch Auto Supply was re-elected vice-president. O. W. Andersen was named treasurer to fill the place of Harry S. Webb, resigned. The office of secretary was temporarily left unfilled.

All three new officers were members of last year's board of directors. Mr. Hatz was a hold-over member of the old board, while Mr. Butts was elected at yesterday's annual meeting. Members of the new directorate who attended the first meeting of the year today were Mr. Hatz, Mr. Butts, Mr. Andersen, Charles F. Stuart, Lyman F. Clark, S. F. Bell and W. C. Winkler.

'High Doings' Afoot for Open Forum Meal Fest

Past! Darkest secrecy surrounds the special program to be put on by the City Council next Monday night at the Open Forum banquet meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held at the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse. Councilman C. E. Kimlin, chairman of the committee in charge, refused today to divulge details nor will Councilman S. A. Davis oblige with information. He only indicated "high doings" afoot. One manner "afoot" is to select some candidate lurking about the shadows of the City Hall, take him aside and whisper in his ear. The candidate then grins slyly and reaches for his pocketbook. Councilman Davis gets the money, the candidate gets the tickets. Both go away satisfied.

Sycamore Canyon Work On Paving Is Complete

The work of paving the center strip on Sycamore Canyon road, sixteen feet wide and 1000 feet long, from Sinclair avenue to Sierra avenue, has been completed by Contractor C. L. Hill. Virgil B. Stone, city manager, reported today. The work was contracted and paid for by the Los Angeles county flood control board.

Interment will be made in Forest Lawn cemetery. Mr. Anderson was 30 years old. L. G. Scovern in charge.

REGINALD C. GREEN
Reginald C. Green of 449 Florencia drive, Montrose, died Monday night, January 12, 1925, after a prolonged illness. He was 30 years old and had been a resident of Montrose for three years. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapel of L. G. Scovern. Interment will be made in Grand View Memorial park.

DRINK WATER IF BACK OR KIDNEYS HURT

Begin Taking Salts if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Weakness

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Jan. 13.—The January meeting of the La Crescenta Improvement association was called to order by President W. D. Kemper. As there were not very many members present no decisive business stand on any question was taken. However, there were many interesting talks.

Harvey Bissell, chairman of the roads committee, reported the work on grading and paving Rosemont avenue progressing as rapidly as possible from Michigan to Honolulu avenue. This will open another north and south road through the center of La Crescenta valley. Prospect and Mayfield avenues will be paved from Los Angeles avenue to Rosemont avenue.

Miss Louis Moissant, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported plans under way for an entertainment in February. Fire Chief Duncan gave an outline of his duties in the valley. Mr. Duncan stated that he was of the opinion he should be furnished with two paid firemen to assist him. He will hold classes on Sunday morning for any volunteer firemen who wish to go to the fire engine house at East Hermosa street any time after 8 a. m. The rural system of telephone signals was also introduced by Mr. Duncan, who urged the association to install this system at the earliest possible moment.

A letter of appreciation from the Angeles Forest Protective association was read, thanking the improvement association for its gift of $50 towards purchasing equipment.

G. W. Farrand of the Verdugo Hills Credit association presented the petition passed by that body to appoint a committee of three to look after the installing of fire hydrants, siren and sirenizing a volunteer squad to work with the chief. Mr. Farrand suggested Arthur Aiken be appointed to act in the La Crescenta district. C. O. Leary, Jr., presented the matter of changing the name of the organization to that of Chamber of Commerce. After discussion, the matter was tabled at the suggestion of Charles O. Leary, to be taken up at the March meeting.

H. D. Johnson spoke of the paving and widening of Michigan boulevard, also of the washes that are being filled up in the various subdivisions. Mr. Bissell, speaking of the new work to be done on North Los Angeles avenue, stated there will be gutters to take care of the overflow of water, that surveys are making a most careful survey of the contemplated work so that all danger of overflow conditions in heavy rains come, would be averted.

Mr. Blanford spoke on the proposed bond election due to the need of more school rooms in both schools as there are a number of pupils now on half-day sessions in the school. The meeting will be called for the night of January 15, when property owners will hear the terms of bonding issue.

Two new members were added to the list while several old members renewed subscriptions. The next meeting will be held on the first Thursday in February.

Stockholders of the La Crescenta Mutual Water Co. are receiving notices of the meeting to be held February 9 in the La Crescenta schoolhouse. The purpose of the meeting is to increase the capital stock of the company from 2500 to 5000 shares. The company was originally incorporated for 2500 shares at a par value of $25 per share. This stock is all issued, and to continue with improvements and developments it is necessary to increase the stock. Friends of Mrs. Jessie Hansen are grieved to learn of the death of her father at his residence in Bell. Many friends will journey to Bell on Wednesday when the funeral services will be held in the afternoon. Mrs. Hansen is captain of the La Crescenta Valley Girl Scouts, also the curator of the drama section of the La Crescenta Valley Women's club.

Wednesday, January 14, the regular business meeting of the La Crescenta Valley Women's club will be held in the schoolhouse. It is expected an interesting report will be made by the building committee.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Jan. 13.—Verdugo City will, on Wednesday morning open its postoffice with appropriate ceremonies when Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson of Glendale will initiate Emil Busch in his duties as postmaster of Verdugo City. There will be a public flag raising over the building and short talks. For the time all persons receiving their mail at the new office are asked to have it addressed Verdugo City, Los Angeles county, Calif.

From present plans of Dr. E. Erlwanger the valley is to have a resident dentist. Dr. Erlwanger comes from Dubuque, Iowa, where he has practiced for several years. The doctor intends to bring his family to the valley and will occupy a suite of offices in the Fowler building.

Boxing
Notes

AT PHILADELPHIA—Eddie "Cannon Ball" Martin of New York was given the referee's decision over Tommy Murray, Philadelphia, ten rounds; Carl Tremaine, Cleveland, outpointed Patsy Wallace of Philadelphia, ten rounds.

AT SCRANTON—Joey Ross, New York, won on a foul from Bobby Burke of Reading, nine rounds.

AT NEW YORK—Iszy Schwartz, New York, won decision over Jimmy Russo, Grand Rapids, Michigan, ten rounds.

AT SALT LAKE—Calvin Herman and Gus Barrie drew in six rounds; Pat Gilbert and Wild Bill Farrell, fought six rounds to a draw; Jack Andrews knocked out Ray Walker, first; Ray Gorman knocked out Henry Wallace, first.

Vance Asks $18,000 for Services During 1925

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—From authoritative sources it was learned today that Pitcher Arthur "Daddy" Vance of the Brooklyn Dodgers, rated as the most valuable player in his league during the 1924 season, is holding out for a salary of $18,000, the highest ever paid a Brooklyn player, by many thousands. Vance leaving for Clearwater, Florida, to get into condition, told Memphis sport writers that he had returned the contract offered him and informed the Brooklyn owners that he did not care to discuss the situation until later. It was said today that the contract offered Vance at the end of the 1924 season called for $12,000 a year.

Glendale 'Y' Officers Attend L.A. Conference

Dr. John Anderson and H. L. Finlay, directors of the Glendale Y. M. C. A., attended a meeting of "Y" executives in Los Angeles last night at the City club when George Sherwood Eddy spoke on the foreign work of the Y. M. C. A. Dinner was served.

Directors of the local "Y" did not take definite action on preliminary plans for the new "Y" building on North Louise street at their executive meeting at the Egyptian Village cafe yesterday. Tentative plans and estimates of cost for the building have been prepared by the New York office of the Y. M. C. A. building department. It is now up to the directors here to adopt the plans or reject them. Adoption will probably be forthcoming as soon as several details are worked out, it was indicated.

Hi-Y Boys at Banquet
In Honor of Officers

Forty-five Glendale Hi-Y boys attended the regular monthly banquet of the Hi-Y club in honor of officers of Pasadena Hi-Y at Pasadena last night. Warren S. Slater, physical director at the Pasadena institution, was the main speaker. The Glendale boys were accompanied by Rex Kelly, executive secretary. Bob Hatch, president of the local club, presided. Preceding the dinner, a swim was enjoyed by the boys in the Pasadena pool.

Stop Drinking
Stale Water

Fresh Water Contributes Vitally to Health—Learn the
One Way to Have It Always in the Home

Fresh water—and fresh water only—contains Niton, an element as vital to health as vitamins in the diet.

It is this element which causes physicians to send thousands of health seekers annually to drink the waters at world famous springs such as Hot Springs, Arkansas—owned and operated by the Government—Vichy, France, Bath, England and others.

All natural spring water contains Niton to a beneficial extent for a short period after the water comes from the ground.

What Niton Is

Niton is radio-activity. It is what makes water fresh. It is a vital element which Nature intended water to contain.

It is present in water fresh from the spring, because that water in its progress through the underground channels has come into contact with rocks containing millions of tiny radium deposits.

These charge the water with radio-activity—Niton. And water containing this element contributes wonderfully to health.

It relieves and frequently entirely cures chronic organic troubles. Thousands of sick people benefit through their visit to these famous springs.

Those who are well go also to tone themselves up physically. The fresh water thoroughly cleanses. It aids in the elimination of bodily poisons and thus results in new vigor and vitality.

But the treatment is apt to be of temporary value.

Can Not Be Stored

For the water soon loses this element. Whether water is stored in bottles, reservoirs or pipes, the Niton rapidly dissipates.

Even water which is bottled at the spring and sealed hermetically has little of this element within a few days.

And all the water we drink is stored water. Thus it is stale water—lacks the freshness which Nature demands.

Now a Way

Scientists have for years recognized these facts. They properly value Niton. They realize that it can not be retained in stored water.

They have sought a practical way to provide fresh water economically to every home. Some years ago the way was discovered.

It has been thoroughly tested. Now it is an established fact. The process has been made practical by the development of the Revigator, so named because it aids people to enjoy new health and vigor.

Simple and Sure

The idea behind the Revigator is as simple as those underlying all great inventions.

Jars are lined with especially selected radium ore—fused to the inner walls of the jars under 2000 degrees of heat for twenty days.

When filled, the water is brought in contact with the radium ore just as is done by nature underground. Water which has remained twelve hours in the jar is radio-active—contains Niton.

It is fresh water.

Drink This Fresh Water

Install the Revigator in your home. Drink fresh water daily. Note the results in health.

Your body will eliminate poisons which have lowered your vitality and resistance to disease. Fresh water will aid in keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver active and healthy.

The water is tasteless. It is neither medicine nor drug. It is merely fresh water which contributes to health all that Nature expects of water.
